Evers Jumps Boston College Contract

"SIMS MORE EAGER TO AID BRITISH THAN TO SAVE LIVES OF AMERICANS"

B. C. TEAM "JUMPED" BY EVERS

College Gets Final Word; Place as Coach May Be Filled by Dave Shean

Johnny Evers has jumped his contract with Boston College.

Graduate Manager Frank A. Reynolds of that institution, and Rev. Richard A. O'Brien as first refused to believe stories from New York that the peppery ex-Brave and ex-Red Sox player had deserted.

They had his promise that he would coach the Boston College baseball team throughout the remaining months of its season, and believed they could rely on his promise.

But today Evers wired Captain Bond of the B. C. team as follows:

"Sorry, but you realize what a great opportunity this is for me and the only one that would make me change my mind. Best luck for the team."

The Boston College contract with Evers was verbal, but such a contract is honored by the country and Evers, having given his word, can be held to it should Boston College elect to make an issue of the matter.

Whether the local college will do so could not be learned, but owing to the length of time necessary to secure a judgment in such cases it is probable that no contest will be inaugurated.

In the event Boston College accepts this abrupt and unexpected breaking of the contract, it is likely that Dave Shean of Arlington, former Braves and Red Sox player, will be installed as the B. C. coach.

Prior to the receipt of Evers' telegram, Graduate Manager Reynolds made the following statement:

"I made final arrangements last Thursday with Evers to have him coach Boston College team. He has not tried to cancel his obligations with us and I can hardly believe he will treat us as the stories from New York indicate."

"It may be that Evers plans to go to the giants at the end of the college season on a contract similar to that of Arthur Devlin, who left us to join Fordham."

Rev. Richard A. O'Brien, faculty director of athletics at Boston College, said: "I don't understand and can't believe that Evers will not be on the job to coach Boston College team. While there was no written contract, everything was agreed on verbally, as we were willing to take Mr. Evers' word as a gentleman.

Look to Obregon to Bring Peace to Mexico

GENERAL ALVARO OBREGON.

General Alvaro Obregon, Mexico's new man of destiny, is better known to Americans than almost any of his countrymen. He sprang into fame in 1913, when he raised an army against the usurper, Huerta. He was the most successful of the rebel leaders in that insurrection, and was the first of them to enter Mexico City in triumph.

Since that time he has been constantly before the public. Until 1916 he was war minister and "strong man" of the Carranza administration. Leaving the cabinet on the plea of ill health, he became a source of growing fear to administration adherents, who recognized in him the logical leader of a new revolution.

Obregon was born in Siquisiva, Sonora, forty years ago. He is a "gentleman farmer" by occupation, a world traveler, a music lover and a hater of militarism, according to his admirers. He lost an arm in a battle with Villa forces in the State of Nueva Leon.

Elevated May Call for Financial Aid

Unless the Boston Elevated Railway can make up a deficit of $661,000 by July 1, it will have to again appeal to the State for financial aid. This statement was made today by General Auditor John H. Moran, testifying at the wage arbitration proceedings at the State House.

Moran presented figures showing how the road has been accumulating a large deficit, despite the 10-cent fare, which showed how the increase in passengers has steadily declined in recent years.

His figures showed that during April the road earned more money on the 10-cent fare than on the lower rates that were previously in force, but the road carried 800,000 fewer passengers a day.

A tabulation of passengers carried showed that in 1887 the Elevated

Two Former Mayors of Cambridge Called in Embossograph Fraud Case

Evidence of fraud in connection with the affairs of the Embossograph Company, 50 Bromfield street, was placed before a special Grand Jury today by Assistant District Attorney Henry P. Fielding.

Among the witnesses called were two former mayors of Cambridge, Edgar B. Champlain president of the Massachusetts Trust Company, and John H. McNamee, director of one of the companies, included in the list of creditors of the concern.

Former Counsellor Guy Ham, president of the Hyde National Bank, was also a witness today.

Boston dealers hope that big catches will be landed at Newport within a day or two.

DANIELS ARRAIGNS ADMIRAL SIMS

Washington, May 10.—Protection of the lives of American soldiers from the German submarine while enroute to France was held secondary to the protection of British merchant shipping by Rear Admiral Sims, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today told the Senate sub-committee investigating charges made by Sims.

"He seemed to accept the views of the British Admiralty as superior to anything that would come from America," Daniels charged, in outlining "six important particulars in which Admiral Sims did not measure up to expectations during the conduct of the war."

"Admiral Sims lacked vision to see that a great and new project to bar the submarine from their hunting grounds should be promptly adopted and carried out." Daniels continued.

"He urged the views of the British Admiralty, even when the Navy Department proposed plans that proved more efficient.

"In public speeches and in others he gave a maximum of credit to British efforts and minimized what his country was doing.

"He accepted British decorations and seemed to place a higher value on honors given abroad than honors that could be conferred by the American government.

"He aspired to become a member of the British Admiralty and wrote complaining when the American government declined to permit him to accept such tender by the king of England.

"He placed protection of merchant shipping, with concentration of destroyers at Queenstown, as the main operation of the forces abroad, failing to appreciate that the protection of transports carrying troops to France was the paramount naval duty, until I felt impelled to cable him peremptorily that such was our

FOUND DEAD IN YOUNG'S HOTEL

Mystery Surrounds Manner in Which Oddly Attired Guest Met His End

The oddly attired body of a man who registered as N. Farquar, No. 220 West Ninety-fourth street, New York city, was found today in room 141, on the fourth floor of Young's Hotel.

Considerable mystery surrounds the cause of death, but by the police and hotel management, refusing to make any statement of fact, than to admit that the body had been found.

It was learned, however, that the discovery was made about an hour after the man had secured a room, when Sarah Connolly, a maid, saw the body stretched out on the bed through the open door of the room.

The maid notified Annie Sheehan, also an employee of the hotel, who in turn summoned William J. Sellers, the manager. There were no marks of violence on the body and no evidence of suicide.

The victim was described as being about fifty years old, five feet ten inches tall, 170 pounds in weight, with gray hair and smooth face.

DANIELS ACCUSES SIMS OF BEING PRO-BRITISH DURING WAR

MINIMIZED EXPLOITS OF U. S. NAVY, SECRETARY DECLARES

Major mission," Daniels continued. "The secretary declared that Admiral Sims accepted the British view that the North Sea barrage against the submarines was not necessary and that Admiral Mayo was not abroad to press its adoption. After the British abandoned the barrage as a necessity Admiral Sims carried out the plan, Daniels explained.

ORDERED TO DISCREDIT NAVY.

"Through without precedent, this gratuitous project, conceived by officers of the American Navy, to Washington, was carried out with brilliant success," Daniels said.

Daniels said Sims was endeavoring to discredit the American Navy by "Trying to ferret out molehills of mistakes, exaggerated into mountains." He referred to formal charges made by Admiral Sims against the naval officers in command here. Admiral Sims was certain that leading officers of the British navy and many of officers had made the charges at that time," Daniels said.

"The public will not forgive Admiral Sims for disloyalty to the members of the force later in the of January 7, Daniels declared.

This letter referred to was the one which the "secret admonition" Sims alleged was given as he left for England before the United States entered the war, "not to let the British see that they won't rout you."

"It was his official right to convey to our associates in Great Britain the impression that responsible naval authority in Washington had such prejudice against Great Britain as to deny our immediate and whole-heartedness of co-operation in the prosecution of any critic or enemy of the United States to reflect upon America's full and efficient participation in naval operations," Daniels observed.

CALLS SIMS PRO-BRITISH.

"If any person in authority in Washington had such unfriendly feelings or prejudices against Great Britain, he would not have favored sending Admiral Sims over there, known pro-British 'disloyalists,'" Daniels said.

Daniels pointed to "eleven officers necessary loss of 500,000 lives as charged by Admiral Sims." Daniels replied:

attitude of Admiral Sims toward the British referred to by the secretary "was not new." Daniels explained. Before he left for England I impressed Admiral Sims with the fact that war had not been declared and called his attention to the Guildhall speech made by him during the administration of President Taft.

The Guildhall speech was made at a dinner given to the officers of the American Navy by the Lord Mayor of London, at which Sims "pledged every drop of blood, and every dollar of your kindred across the seas, if at any time the British Empire is seriously menaced by an external enemy."

"I send him on his mission not because of this speech of 1910," Daniels said. "I thought then, that his utterance at Guildhall was an indiscretion and an after-dinner speech, occasions when we have indulged from time to time in uttering what in the common vernacular is called slopping over."

Daniels said he did not learn of Sims' "pro-British obsession," Daniels said

ARREST 124 FOR INTOXICATION

Number of Cases of Drunkenness Is Increasing in Greater Boston

Boston is fast going back to pre-prohibition days, when according to statistics of the Municipal Court, an increase that is supported by the figures of the police department, was recorded yesterday, eight in this morning there were 124 cases of drunkenness in Greater Boston. Of these 19 appeared in court today, while 24 were released on bail and 81 were held.

On April 12, a Monday morning, the record of arrests was 43. Of these 7 were dismissed, 3 put on probation for a year and 32 appeared in court. Two days' comparison very favorably or unfavorably—with the court cases before the advent of prohibition.

Another thing that is noticeable in connection with the increase is the fact that the number of arrests of women for drunkenness the first time his case is handled by the probation officer. Only the number of less than a dozen appear in court. Many of the instances are not confirmed drunkards with court records, but housewives, most of whom are working men.

All blame the "bootlegger" for the condition of affairs. The substitutes for whiskey that those men offer for sale are quite as dangerous as wood alcohol. City Hospital is today crowded with victims of "shine" drunks and sufferers from poisonous substitutes.

The police are hampered, they say, by the working of the Volstead Amendment as construed by the United States commissioner. They must have complete evidence of an actual sale to a bootlegger before they can make an arrest. The commissioner ruled that the police had no right to search a suspect without a warrant. The "bootlegger" has learned that if he has no self-incriminating evidence on a person he cannot be reasonably sure is not an officer.

Of the 124 cases of drunkenness in the East Boston court today, from Saturday to Sunday night, seven were placed under the probation officer, two cases were filed, while the tenth male was given one month in the House of Correction. Only two of the sixth offense this year.

Edward H. Franey, nineteen years old, of Revere, paid a $15 fine for drunkenness, today in Newton court, and deposited a $75 fine for disorderly conduct on a street car. He was freed on $200 bonds.

5 LANDLORDS IN ONE YEAR

Allston Tenants Complain of Rent Increase From $40 to $75

One of the most flagrant cases of alleged profiteering reported to the Mayor's rent and housing committee since its inception was settled today by the signing of a six-year lease agreement house at No. 12 Brainerd road, Allston, who declared they had been forced out of their home because of evident extortion.

The house, they say, has had five owners in one year, and during that period the rent has been increased from $40 to $75. The committee is continuing an investigation of the case, believing that it is one of appartent "straw" ownership.

NEW ADVANCE JUNE 1.

In 1918 the property was owned by the Allington Savings Bank and the apartments were rented for $40 a month. It was sold some time later to Joseph E. Garrison of Medford Hillside, who continued the rent at the same figure.

In July Simon Borowsky of Cambridge purchased the house and, it is claimed, increased the rent to $42.50 and later to $50.

The next owner was Edmund A. Hering, who on the first of this month increased the rent to $65. The present owner, Samuel Weisberg, the tenants declare, has now notified the occupants that on June 1 the rent will be $75.

Four tenants of an apartment block at No. 224 Humboldt avenue told the committee that their rents have been extortionately raised by a landlord, who, they claim, is in reality a "straw man."

The rents have been increased from $28 and $40 to $32 and $55.

INVESTIGATING CHARGES.

According to Harry Weinstein, one of the tenants, the former owner of the property was A. DiPetro. The block was transferred to the ownership of S. Rubenstein, who, he said, besides being the janitor of the premises is the treasurer of the Glenway Realty Company.

Weinstein stated that Rubenstein has an equity of only $90 in the house, although he paid $1,500 as bonuses and other fees that he should might be put in his name. Weinstein alleges collusion between DiPeitro and Rubenstein.

The committee is investigating the charges.

LONG HUNT FOR FIRE BACK OF SERVICE CLUB

Fire was discovered in the rear of the Service Men's Club in Scollay square early today after a half hour's hunt by firemen of Cherished 1. The blaze gained considerable headway before discovered and caused several hundred dollars' damage. The firemen were called on a still alarm to Police Headquarters when smoke filled the court room. After searching through the areaway in the rear of Police Headquarters the firemen found the blaze burning in the walls of the Service Club. The fire started about midnight in a rubbish barrel placed in the rear of the club.

CHARGE POSTOFFICE IS BEING DEMORALIZED

At a meeting of local 100, Boston Postoffice Clerks, at the Quincy House, charges were made that the present administration of the postoffice department is demoralizing the department by endeavoring to make it a money-making machine.

Operating expenses, it was charged, are being reduced to the minimum by the reduction of forces, mail deliveries and collections, in addition to the inauguration of systems that are breaking the morale and efficiency of the employes and the department itself.

LYNN GENERAL ELECTRIC STRIKERS BACK TO WORK

Girl Who Is Facing Trial for Murder

JENNIE ZIMMERMAN

called was Cornelius Sullivan of Holyoke, a chauffeur, who was chosen

It is understood the defence will enter a plea of temporary insanity, and Miss Zimmerman will be placed on the stand in her own behalf.

Defending the girl against the most serious charge in the entire legal catalog of crime appeared Attorneys William G. McKenchie and Thomas J. Collins, both of Springfield. The prosecution is in the hands of District Attorney Charles H. Wright and Assistant District Attorney Rufus H. Tilton.

The murder which the girl is charged with took place on August 7, last year. Declaring Dr. Zimmerman had disgraced and then refused to marry her, the girl is alleged to have met the young physician on Percy street, and after a short and heated interview, during which he refused to have anything further to do with her, pulled a revolver from the folds of her dress and fired five shots into his body.

The girl then walked across the street and fell in a faint. In a confession which the government will produce the girl is alleged to have admitted firing the fatal shots. She declared that she had been engaged to him for two years and that their relations were happy until March of that year, when he suddenly became cool toward her and refused to see her.

VICTIM WAS IN SERVICE.

At that time Dr Zimmerman was in the service as a lieutenant in the Medical Corps, and was stationed at a Virginia camp. He declined to visit her, she said, and on the occasioned when she succeeded in seeing him declared he was through with her.

Letters that the young doctor had written her in which it is said he agreed to marry her will be important exhibits in the case. While her counsel refuse to commit themselves, it is thought that temporary insanity will be the defence. At the time of the shooting the girl's mother was an inmate of an insane asylum and evidence tending to show hereditary insanity in the family will be produced.

JOHNSON WILL IGNORE HOOVER ON LEAGUE ISSUE

Washington, May 10.—Senator Johnson today pronounced untrue the reports that he had opposed the selection of former Senator Beveridge of Indiana for the permanent chairman of the Republican convention. "I am not putting the veto on anyone," the Senator said. "I have nothing to do with it."

Senator Johnson said he would make no reply to the latest statement by Herbert Hoover on the League of Nations issue. The evident intention of Hoover to place a misconstruction on whatever the Senator says has convinced the latter that further discussion of the subject with Hoover is not worth while.

Brother of Prominent Loyal Coalition Member Appears in Chicago Court

William Hross Lloyd, formerly of Boston, and brother of Demarest Lloyd, prominent in the Loyal Coalition, went on trial today in Chicago with twenty-five other defendants, charged with conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by force.

Thirty-nine persons, including three women, were indicted, but a number are reported to have fled the country and to be now in Mexico or Europe. They were arrested in the country-wide roundup of alleged "Reds" last January.

Lloyd is a graduate of Harvard and a son of the late Henry D. Lloyd, well known Boston philanthropist, who left an estate of millions. William Lloyd's home is in Evanston, a wealthy suburb of Chicago. He was reported to have declared himself "the reddest of the 'Reds.'"

He was met by his wife, Lola Maverick Lloyd, in 1916, on statutory grounds. Last year he paid a fine of $25 in Chicago for carrying a red flag on his automobile. On conviction he could not be found that he would appeal, but would pay the fine as soon as he was "able to scrape together the money." He was arrested soon after America had entered the war, which action Lloyd condemned.

The trial is expected to last three months, as it will take at least four weeks, according to the belief of legal authorities, before a jury can be chosen. Among the witnesses who will be summoned by the State is Ole Hanson, former Mayor of Seattle.

Lloyd, who gave himself up to the police when the January raids had been in progress a few days, has been held in $10,000 bonds.

SOCIALISTS TO FIGHT FOR DEBS

New York, May 10.—The Socialist convention here today formulated plans for a demonstration in Washington on Saturday in protest against the "political imprisonment" of Eugene V. Debs, who will be the party's 1920 Presidential candidate.

A committee was appointed today composed of Morris Hillquit of New York, Seymour Stedman of Chicago, Otto Branstetter, the national executive secretary; George Rohr of Massachusetts and Freda Hogan of Oklahoma, to interview Attorney-General Palmer on Friday and request amnesty for all prisoners now serving sentences for violations of war-time laws, and particularly amnesty for Debs.

An interview has been arranged with Joseph P. Tumulty at the White House on Saturday, with the object in view of laying Debs' case before the President for executive clemency.

He gave the average daily wage of the entire staff at the Salem car barns at $4.96 a day for an average work-day of 7 hours, 22 minutes. Payslips covering a considerable period of time were introduced in testimony.

Witness gave the aggregate salaries of 4,194 Elevated conductors and motormen in 1914 as $7,272,606, and of 5,577 in 1919 as $6,402,000. The decrease in the number of employes was explained by the through service on the Forest Hills-Everett cars, which did away with large numbers of surface cars.

LAYS KILLING TO 'DRY' LAW

Widow of Dow, Shot as Burglar, Sees No Good in Prohibition

"Prohibition was the direct cause of my husband's death and my family's misery. There is nothing right about it."

The speaker was Mrs. Myles P. Dow, of No. 33 Fayette street, Scollay End, whose husband was shot dead in the office of the Standard Bottling & Extract Company, at No. 73 Haward street, by Patrolman Frank Mullen.

Mrs. Dow's nephew, William C. Sweeney, was with Dow in the office, and was mortally wounded, it is alleging confession he declared he and his companions were looking for liquor, not money. Sweeney died at the City Hospital.

Mrs. Dow continued:

"It's all because of this prohibition. My husband was not a burglar. He served in the war, as a volunteer, and one of the first to offer. His body lies in Calvary Cemetery, unclaimed by the enemy. The whole explanation is that somebody shot too quick. We don't want that. We do not complain. He did his duty. But it all seems too unnecessary to us. Now this burglar theory is absurd.

"The whole explanation of the affair is that he could not get his nephew, young William C. Sweeney, had been drinking. They were told that the saloon had been closed in that place where they met their death. They had enough liquor so that they were not satisfied to look for heads. And they had money on them to buy more. So they couldn't buy it, under this prohibition. So, being not quite themselves, they tried to get it as they could.

"Sweeney in his confession declared that he and Dow did not know there was a large sum of money in the office.

Sweeney's confession follows: "I met Dow, my companion, Saturday noon. After a talk we decided to go out and get some liquor. We got a small bottle (Jamaica ginger) for 25 cents. We drank it and went to South Boston and got another.

"He told me he would meet me after supper Saturday night. He didn't know there was plenty of alcohol. We met at Harvard and Albany streets. Dow broke a rear window and climbed in.

"We had just found the revolver and flashlight in the desk in the office when Patrolman Mullen and his companions came in. Dow pointed the gun and cried 'Stick up!' There were several shots. Dow was killed. I was hit and became unconscious."

forced to recognize it as a de facto government.

In the event that orderly and legal elections are held by the rebels and a new government established, the United States must then accept recognition of that government, the necessity of Mexico to the United States and the need for trading facilities may force the United States to a recognition of a new government without delay, it is said.

Confident that the devolution in Mexico has reached a successful consummation, the leaders of the Sonora movement already are proceeding to form a new national government, it was announced at the agency of the revolutionists here today.

The committee has the provisions of the so-called plan of Agua Prieta, agreed upon in the conference of the rebel leaders at the border city early in April.

A temporary president will be chosen within the next two or three days by the Governors of the States, it is said, a number, a majority of whom have declared support of the revolution.

This temporary president will serve until such time as the federal Congress can be convened for the purpose of electing a provisional president, who will hold office until regular elections can be held.

Among those mentioned as likely to be chosen temporary president are Don Fernando Iglesias Calderon, Alberto Robles Dominguez, Antonio Villareal and Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of Sonora.

As soon as the federal Congress selects a provisional president he is expected immediately to call an election. Two candidates already have been regularly selected by national conventions. They are General Alvaro Obregon, chosen by the Liberal Constitutionalist convention, and General Pablo Gonzales, candidate of the Democratic League.

Make War Rich Pay Bonus, Says Capper

Washington, May 10.—"War bills hours should end the war—and according to a statement made today by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas.

"The war that made 25,000 American millionaires, recruited sixty-seven of them with three billion of war profits," Senator Capper said.

"Consequently I know of no more just and equitable act this nation can perform than to compel these same excess profit and such dividend beneficiaries to do their belated bit and long shirked war duty by requiring them to pay the purchased liberty bonds or a large part of it. At the same time I know they won't do it unless legislation compels it."

EXPECT DR. ELIOT'S ATTACK TO FORCE CHANGE AT WEST POINT

OFFICERS FAVOR AN INQUIRY

See Opportunity to Reform System of Training at the Academy

Criticism of West Point by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, in which he charged that its graduates were ill-trained and failures in war, was admitted to be a good thing for the service by officers connected with Boston army headquarters today.

These officers, who refused to permit their names to be used, said that certain methods employed at the famous academy were obsolete, and that there was opportunity for modernization of the curriculum.

They asserted that Dr. Eliot's charges would turn the light of publicity on a condition which has long been the subject of controversy, and would unquestionably result in improvement.

TO ASK INQUIRY.

These statements were made coincident with the action of Representative Fred Britten of Illinois, who introduced a resolution in the House today, asking an investigation by the Military Affairs Committee.

Dr. Eliot's criticism was made in an address before the Harvard Teachers' Association and in a letter to General Bandholtz, commander of the North Atlantic Coast Artillery district.

Dr. Eliot, when asked if he wished to comment on this action, replied: "No, there is nothing to say. I am desirous of saying something more on the subject by and by, but not now."

TIME FOR ACTION.

Mr. Britten said:

"When a man of Dr. Eliot's standing in the educational world says that West Point is a good example of what an educational institution should not be, and that this fact was shown by the inefficiency and failure of its graduates during the war, and that in his opinion no American school or college is intended for youths between eighteen and twenty-two years of age which could equal it as a source material as West Point accepts, I think it is time for Congress to investigate the conditions and see if our curriculum is running in circles and the $26,000 expended on the education of each cadet is wasted.

"Dr. Eliot should tell the committee on military affairs just where West Point graduates failed and were inefficient during the war and how, in his opinion, they are to be obviated in the future. He should be given a full and thorough hearing before the committee."

Governor and Staff to Attend 'Sallies' Play

Rev. Lyman Rollins, chaplain of the 101st Regiment, in the leading role of Solomon, and Miss Helen St. Ledger Murphy, as Princess Karahtet, in "The Chosen King," to be presented at the Boston Opera House tonight for the benefit of the Salvation Army home service fund.

Governor Calvin Coolidge, attended by members of his staff, will be present this evening at the first presentation of the pageant-play, "The Chosen King," which will be given at the Boston Opera House for the benefit of the Salvation Army home service fund.

In recognition of the Governor's interest in the drive for $125,000 he has been designated as "Governor's Night." Mrs. Coolidge, who is also taking an active part in promoting the success of the play, will be in the box with Mr. Coolidge.

Final rehearsals of "The Chosen King" drove the players, one of the most spectacular in gorgeousness of color, arrangement of tableau and grace of the dances ever produced in Boston.

Boston got away to a discouraging start today in the drive for $125,000 in this city and $1,250,000 in New England. Former State Treasurer Charles L. Burrill, chairman of the Boston committee, declared that unless there was a quick awakening of public interest, the "Sallies" might fall short of their goal.

A check from former Governor Samuel W. McCall was among the first to be received at campaign headquarters, No. 67 Milk street. The check was accompanied by a note praising the work of the Salvation Army and wishing the committee success.

The note follows: "It is conceded on all hands that the work of the Salvation Army during the war was superb. It was an able criterion to its work at home. The war work committee of the Salvation Army is conspicuous. The Home Service Appeal should commend itself to all our people in New England. I trust that everyone will respond liberally to the call which the organization is now making."

Other checks included one for $50 from Miss C. Louise Dresser, one for $200 from Edwin A. Furber and one for $500 from P. C. Fletcher.

The drive for the Home Service Appeal Fund will close on May 20, by which time the workers hope to be well beyond the goal set.

Tomorrow a fleet of aeroplanes will circle the State House dome and fly over the city. The aviators will bring with them messages of greeting and instruction to Governor Coolidge, New England chairman of the campaign, and Colonel Adam Gifford, New England commander of the Salvation Army, and Captain Franklin M. Sulzer, in charge of colonizing headquarters in Boston.

Alfred L. Aiken of the National Shawmut Bank is treasurer of the fund.

700 PAPER MILL WORKERS GO ON STRIKE

Unskilled Workers Go Out at Holyoke Just Before Wage Conference

Holyoke, May 10.—The labor situation in the paper mills, which has been strained for some weeks, assumed a serious aspect today, when 700 unskilled workers went on strike for more pay.

The action was taken a few hours preceding a conference between representatives of Eagle Lodge of Paper Makers, the skilled workers, and the manufacturers, at which it was planned to put through the Buffalo (N. Y.) wage schedule.

The strikers are members of the Unity of Workers, an organization not affiliated with union labor. They demand seventy cents an hour instead of fifty-five cents.

It was feared that the action of the unskilled workers would have an unfavorable effect on the conference. The skilled workers resent the attempt of the manufacturers to adopt individual contracts.

Jeremiah T. Carey, international president of the Paper Makers' Union, declared that if the manufacturers persisted in attempting to use individual contracts the union men would demand a closed shop in all local mills. The open shop is the rule.

Abandoned by Two Male Companions, Newark Bride, 18, Is Burned Alive

New York, May 10.—Helen Bradley aged eighteen, of No. 131 Washington street, Newark, perished in agony beneath a burning automobile which had turned turtle at Queens boulevard and Old Mill road, Queens Borough. She was declared by witnesses of the fatality, pinned down in bed by her screams, to have been abandoned in her extremity by two men, who dragged off the other girl who had been with them in the car.

"For God's sake, save Helen. She's burning to death," the girl was said to have pleaded. But she was dragged from the scene, thrust into another car and driven away, witnesses declared.

The girl who vainly pleaded for her friend was Frieda Bartele, of No. 72 Seventeenth street, Newark. The driver was John Daly, twenty-three, of No. 84 Van Pelt street, Long Island City.

The dead girl was married a bride of several months, but recently had parted from her husband.

Daly gave the name of the second man in the party as Walter F. Flanigan, Long Island City, an automobile mechanic, who has a wife and four children.

FLOUR GOES TO $17 A BARREL

Predicts Price Will Reach $25 Before End of This Month

Another increase in the price of flour was reported today by Boston agents of Western mills, who received telegraphic advices that standard brands at Minneapolis advanced from $16.45 to $17 a barrel.

As a result it was predicted that the retail price would reach $25 before the end of this month, and that the shortage would be a certainty before midsummer.

Other agents reported that their mills had shut down, finding it more profitable to sell wheat than to grind it, especially at $2.43 a bushel being made in the West today.

Flour experts believe that the end is in sight, and declare that the alarming rise in the price of wheat is due to the prospective removal of all government restrictions on the end of this month, and to a wheat shortage throughout the world.

Speculation in wheat is said to have reached a point where millions of bushels are involved, and the prospect of an acute shortage is threatening.

SOUTH SHORE COTTAGERS CAN'T GET COAL OR WOOD

Unable to procure coal or wood, hundreds of Summer residents of Scituate, Cohasset and other South Shore resorts have been forced to close their cottages until the weather becomes warm. Many accounts of automobile owners taking coal from their Winter homes to their cottages in the country have been encountered.

Neither coal nor wood can be bought locally at the resorts. Formerly the Summer visitors could buy "coal and wood" from the small stores whenever they needed, but called for artificial heat. The severe Winter, the two railroad strikes and a general confusion in the transportation system are given as the reason for the famine.

Profiteers Imperil the Soldiers' Bonus

By CHARLES O. POWER.

Washington, May 10.—The bonus bill is in grave danger. The profiteers are fighting the war veterans, but Chairman Joseph Fordney of the House Ways and Means Committee has declared war on the objectors and is going to demand an immediate showdown with them and their allies in Congress.

Enemies of the proposed cash bonus say that it will be smothered in the committee. Chairman Fordney says it can't die there.

He has called a special meeting of the committee and says he will have an amended bill ready for submission to Congress not later than Wednesday.

CHANGES PROPOSED.

The Ways and Means chairman is fighting mad. He went home a few days ago disgusted with the attitude of Congress toward the men who fought the war. He has returned in an angry mood, determined to rebuke members of the House and outsiders, who are fighting under cover of privilege and privacy to defeat any and all legislation designed to bring a measure of financial relief and other material justice to the soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses, who served their country.

He will propose these changes in the first draft of the bill which met with such a cold reception in Congress: That the cash bonus be $1.75 for veterans who saw overseas service and $1 a day for those who were retained on home service, instead of the larger amount for all that the proposed press talks tax or general consumption tax be eliminated and a larger tax on luxuries and stock transactions be substituted; that the war profiteers pay a little more for their part in prosperity.

"A bill for readjusted compensation, or a bonus bill will be reported by the committee despite reports to the contrary," declares Chairman Fordney. He is convinced that objectionable features of the original bill were interjected for the purpose of stirring up strong opposition to the whole question of a bonus.

He is giving careful thought to the sudden and widespread shift of newspaper editorial comment, practically all of it based on the idea that the bonus legislation should not be a partisan matter in Congress or a political issue in the election.

BILL CANNOT DIE.

His answer is that while he is in entire accord with such a principle, the very best way to extinguish the question from partisan or political and campaign politics is to settle it by legislation.

It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary movement was to be better; it literally peels off the freckles, Get an ounce of the Othine from your druggist and tonight spread on enough to completely cover the face; remain in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared.

Rough, blotchy, sallow skin also common at this season, may be greatly gotten rid of by this same method, without question is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being usually smooth and youthful.—Advertisement.

Thinness Easily Overcome.

(From "Health and Beauty.")

Further evidence is being presented almost daily of the conquered of new chemical elements combined in a tablet with hypophosphites in a reality proving a blessing to the abnormally thin men and women, for it can be demonstrated beyond doubt that a regular course of three or four months' treatment brings an increase in weight of from 10 to 20 pounds, with a decided improvement of health and color, too. For self administration the most popular form is to be found in three grain Sargol pastime tablets, obtainable in sealed packages from the best apothecary shops, with full directions.—Advertisement.

SCIENCE CHURCH UPHEAVAL DUE

Sweeping Changes Expected as Result of World Meeting in Boston in June

As a result of the sweeping criticism of the business administration of the Christian Science Church by the committee on general welfare, an entire new board of directors and other church officers as well as trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society may follow the annual meeting of the Mother Church on June 7.

From all parts of the world, England, France, Germany, Switzerland, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and China, members of the Mother Church, many of them representing a large majority of the 1,800 branch churches, are arriving in Boston daily for the meeting.

PRESSURE TO BE BROUGHT.

Nearly all the large hotels in the city are beginning to fill up and reservations have been made for the few days preceding and following the meeting.

It is believed that the immense pressure which the church members will be able to exert, based on the report of the welfare committee, will be sufficient to bring about the changes suggested by the committee, which was appointed to investigate the affairs of the church at its annual meeting in June, 1919.

If these changes can be secured through the demands of the church members, it is believed that it will cause an immediate suspension of all litigation now pending in the courts, which includes five separate law suits, prosecuted and defended by no less than twenty-nine lawyers.

The principal recommendation for such a revision is that of rotation in office of all church officials including the directors.

NO LIMIT TO TERM.

The directors' term of office is now limited only by death, although there has been one instance in which a member of the board resigned. This portion of the report is embodied under the head of "Magna Charta." In it the committee submits "Further, that rotation in office to be effective must be complete in that it should not permit of one individual being simply moved from one official position to another, and it should be interpreted so as to limit the period of service in office of any individual, whether that the principle of equality of sexes is co-ordinate in importance and should be given the same consideration.

"The committee, therefore, recommends that as soon as present conditions will permit, rotation in office and equality of sexes, where permissible, be applied to all official positions of the Mother Church. Furthermore, the committee recommends that the period of service of any individual in a particular office be limited to five years, and that totality of official service shall not exceed ten years."

SUPERVISION OF FUNDS.

Members of the church are also looking for a carrying out of the recommendations of the committee regarding a more careful supervision over the church funds.

The manual provides for a committee of finance, which was generally supposed to have charge of this department of church activity. The finance committee is composed of F. M. Lamson of the Old Colony Trust Company, Charles E. Lord, a retired business man and head of the real estate department of the church, and Calvin C. Hill, a practitioner and teacher.

Among the other important recommendations is that no salary for any official shall be over $10,000 a year.

CLOTHING WORKERS OPEN CONVENTION

The fourth biennial convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America opened in Treniers Temple today. All needle workers in Boston affiliated with the organization declared the day a holiday. The establishment of a departmental educational system for the 200,000 members was considered by the convention. Co-operative stores and housing and the establishment of a own bank and banking system was also discussed.

LAWRENCE YOUTH HELD ON STABBING CHARGE

Lawrence, May 10.—Following an argument in the home of Charles Scott at No. 141 Hampshire street, the latter was stabbed four times, it is charged, by Joseph Gomez of this city. Scott told the police that Gomez drew a revolver which he succeeded in wrestling from him. A razor was then brought into play and cuts were inflicted on Scott's head and wrist. Gomez, who is twenty-one, was arraigned in the district court.

GIRL KILLED BY AUTO; DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Sawyer of Commonwealth avenue was arrested charged with manslaughter following the death of Mildred Kelley, who, it is alleged, he struck with his automobile when the girl stepped from the Elevated overvation on Columbia road near Stoughton street. The girl received injuries from which she died at the City Hospital.

TO FIGHT IF OLD GUARD WINS

Johnson Club Will Reorganize Progressive Party if Reactionary Is Named

The Hiram Johnson Club of Western Massachusetts adopted a resolution pledging its members to assist in reorganizing the old Progressive party if a reactionary candidate is forced upon the Republican ticket. They base their move on the fear that Hiram Johnson will not be accepted as the Republican candidate by the "Old Guard of Republican politics."

The resolution reads in part:

"Whereas, the National Progressive party in 1912 polled more votes than the Republican party in Massachusetts.

"In 1916, under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, the Progressives supported Charles Evans Hughes for the Presidency and have since consistently supported candidates of the Republican party. In 1918 the voters of the reunited party in the leading primary states overwhelmingly and unanimously endorsed Hiram Johnson for the Presidency.

"The belief is widespread that because of his progressive ideals and fighting independence Senator Johnson will not be accepted as a candidate for President by the "old guard" which, despite its defeats in national politics, is apparently sufficiently powerful within the Republican organization by controlling the votes of non-primary and Democratic States to prevent his nomination.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the members of the Hiram Johnson Club of Western Massachusetts pledge themselves if a reactionary candidate is forced upon the Republican ticket as the nominee for President to urge the presentation to the voters of progressive candidates for Senator, Vice-President, Governor, Congressman and other officers under the name of the Progressive party and pledge themselves to assist in reorganizing the Progressive party of Massachusetts for that purpose.

"JOHNSON CLUB OF WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS.

"Frank W. Aldrich, Chairman,

"Charles V. D. Siegel, secretary."

PALMER BOOM GIVEN JOLT

Candidate Concedes He Will Not Have Solid Home State Delegation

By International News Service.

Washington, May 10.—Attorney-General Palmer's presidential boom is getting some hard bumps in his home State, according to reports received from Pennsylvania. Palmer himself concedes he will be unable to command a solid Pennsylvania delegation at the San Francisco convention.

William G. McAdoo will be supported in the Pennsylvania direct primary on May 18 by Palmer's political foes in that State, it is predicted, and a drive is being made by them to persuade the Democratic voters of the state to write in McAdoo's name on the ballot.

The President's son-in-law is not believed to have countenanced this stroke of Palmer's opponents, but it is said certain friends of McAdoo sanctioned the appeal to Pennsylvania Democrats to vote for him which has been scattered broadcast over the State.

The appeal was signed by Municipal Court Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of Philadelphia, long a bitter antagonist of the attorney-general.

"It would be folly," Bonniwell declares, "to commit the power of democracy to such a pitiful figure as A. Mitchell Palmer. Apart from his memorable his violation of the laws he has sworn to uphold, his antagonism to labor and to free speech, his connivance at notorious violations of the liquor laws to serve his own selfish ends, his domination would utterly wreck democracy's prospect."

Bonniwell's reference to "Notorious violations of the liquor laws" harks back to the charge made recently by Palmer's political enemies that he "winked" at whisky sales in Pennsylvania, despite the prohibition enforcement act, in order to strengthen his presidential boom at home.

Palmer's friends have denounced reports that prohibition enforcement agents, who hold their jobs by grace of the Palmer machine, had been quietly tipped to permit booze to flow again.

The Palmer organization in Pennsylvania is said to be well supplied with campaign funds. Vance C. McCormick of Harrisburg, former Democratic national chairman, and Joseph F. Guffey of Pittsburgh, candidate for delegate at large to the San Francisco convention, are backing the Palmer boom in Pennsylvania. Both are millionaires.

"The Democratic organization is assured of victory," Palmer said. "Sixty-nine of the 113 members of the State committee, friendly to us, will be elected Bonniwell and his following cannot win."

BARTENDERS' UNION RAPS BEER BILL VETO

Members of Bartenders' Union 77, at a meeting at No. 386 Harrison avenue, sharply criticised Governor Coolidge for his action in vetoing the 2.75 per cent bill to legalize the sale of beer and light wines in Massachusetts, and voted to participate in any campaign to bring about the defeat at the next election of all Representatives and Senators who are recorded in opposition to the bill.

PARIS RUSHES TO BUY ROTHSCHILD FURNITURE

Paris, May 10.—Art collectors here are rushing to bid against each other for the marvelous specimens of carved furniture fashioned by the hands of Dr. Henri de Rothschild, the millionaire scientist, who, though he has devoted most of his life to medical research, announced recently it was the duty of all men to do at least some manual labor. His works are fetching sensational prices.

MAY REFUSE TO CONFIRM McCALL

Senate Likely to Force Wilson to Name Another Man for Tariff Board

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson may find it necessary to make a third nomination in his effort to fill the vacancy on the Federal Tariff Commission. The Senate leaders have clearly indicated their determination to withhold confirmation of the President's second choice for the place, Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts.

A few weeks ago the President sent in the nomination of Theodore E. Burton, former Senator from Ohio, for the Tariff Commission vacancy. Mr. Burton declined immediately, stating that he had never been consulted regarding the appointment.

The Lodge faction in Massachusetts has always blamed McCall for the defeat of Senator John W. Weeks.

Rupture Kills 7000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Ruptured." Why? Because these people have neglected themselves or had been advised wrong now or they were unwilling to the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you needlessly pounding yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a brace to weakened muscles. The truss never restores blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is entirely unlike the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place. It works with every move you make, yet you will forget you wear it, and what you have tried in vain to do with trusses, you will do.

Don't fail to close the rectal opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come through. Send at once for the FREE PLAPAO PAD. Block 511 St. Louis, Mo., for FREE trial Plapao and said the information necessary.

BRITISH BODY TO SEE HUB STORES

Merchants Touring U. S. Will Be Tendered Luncheon at Copley-Plaza

Plans were completed today by the Retail Trade Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of the delegation of British merchants who are coming to Boston, Wednesday, to inspect the methods employed at the large Boston retail establishments.

In the visiting party will be twenty of England's leading store owners, representing the Drapers' Chamber of Trade of the United Kingdom, and about sixteen prominent American retail men. They will be met at the Back Bay station at 7:30 a. m. by President P. Alexander Chandler and Vice-President Felix Vorenberg of the Retail Trade Board. Breakfast will be served at the Copley-Plaza, and the visitors will be welcomed to Boston by Mayor Peters, President John H. Macomber of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and E. A. Filene.

From 10 a. m. to noon the visitors will be taken on a tour of Boston stores, the delegation being divided into several small groups. Members of the governing board of the Retail Trade Board will accompany the visitors.

The principal feature of the day will be the luncheon at the Copley-Plaza at 12:30, at which Governor Coolidge, Felix Vorenberg and representatives of the visiting merchants will be the speakers. It is expected that 500 persons will attend the luncheon. The balcony has been reserved for women, where luncheon will be served them.

From 2:30 to 5 p. m. there will be an automobile tour to points of interest in and around Boston, after which supper will be served at the Brae-burn Country Club.

Paris in Glee Over U. S. Millionaires

Paris, May 10.—"Gay Paree" is particularly gay these days because the predictions of an invasion by American money kings and queens is coming true. It is conservatively estimated that American wealth arriving in Paris daily amounts to $20,000,000. The Mauretania alone, just in, had a list of millionaires aggregating $56,000,000.

"And they are no pikers, these Americans," said one prominent Rue de la Paix store proprietor gleefully.

Judging from reports which have been received, the Interchurch drive will go over the top within the course of the next three weeks, according to statements made today by John R. Rembie, director of publicity.

SEE PARTY SPLIT OVER TREATY

Wilson's Demand for an Indorsement Dooms Democrats, Say Republicans

By International News Service.

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson's telegram to G. E. Hamaker, one of the Democratic leaders in Oregon, stating the party must stand by the Treaty of Versailles and League of Nations, characterized by him as "the hope of the world," was vigorously commented upon here today.

Republicans assumed the position that the telegram makes it perfectly obvious that the President will insist that the Democratic delegates indorse the treaty as it came from Paris and base the party's campaign for the Presidency on an unconditional ratification of the pact as it stands.

This, they declare, means not only a divided party, but will spell defeat for it next November.

Democratic leaders, however, insist the President merely repeated what he has already stated time and time again in his speeches made while on his swing around the country last Fall and in his writings made public during the fight against the treaty in the Senate.

They say the President is merely consistent and that at the San Francisco convention the party will be found solidly behind the administration.

"They Are Putting New Life in Me"

Mr. W. H. Pennington, Wharton, Ark., writes: "I am taking Cadomene Tablets and they are putting new life in me. I had a bad case of the grip the last winter, and my physician's prescription did me no good. I saw that Cadomene was recommended for a case like mine and I sent twenty miles to get them. Now, after using only one week I am gaining strength, eating with a relish, and sleeping like a baby," etc. Any nervous, weak, impoverished man or woman can take Cadomene with certainty of helping them back to strength and vigor. Every purchase guaranteed satisfactory to the purchaser. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, guarantees every package satisfactory, or money back, so why not stop your pain and distress with Balmwort Tablets. Sold by leading druggists. Price $1.00.—Advertisement.

Filene's MEN'S SHOPS

Still plenty of

Men's 2-pant suits

$48.50

(An extra pair of trousers at the price of a one pair suit)

Just what men have been waiting for—
Planned weeks ago exclusively for Filene's—
Fresh from the shops without a day's delay—
Better values; fewer dollars; longer wear!

YOU men who complain of the high cost of living—here's the kind of chance that doesn't come every day to hit this cost a mighty swat, and save money. Because, getting twice the wear out of a suit is saving half the price of a new one.

THINK of the tragedy of the average clothes closet—full of coats and vests hanging there idle—too good to throw away, yet giving you no wear, because the trousers that went with them have long since been sentenced to the rag bag.

ONE coat will usually outwear two pairs of trousers. So in these suits at $48.50, you get two-trouser wear at a one-trouser price—good woolens; good styles (seventeen different ones to pick from) and BIG Filene values. True economy!

Better than a markdown, because they're NEW. In "regular" sizes only. Best picking for the early birds

OTHER typical Filene values

Men's oxford gray topcoats, $40.
Men's government-tested blue suits, $50.

Is a Bad Back Wearing You Out?

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

ARE you dragging yourself around day in and day out, with a dull, never-ceasing backache? Do you feel tired, discouraged, irritable and without life or ambition for the simplest task? Are you lame in the morning, subject to headaches and dizzy spells, and bothered with sharp, sudden, knife-like pains at every move? Then there's surely something wrong. Probably it's kidney weakness—not hard to overcome if treated promptly, but very dangerous if neglected. Don't wait for some serious kidney trouble to take hold. Get back your health and keep it. For quick relief, get plenty of rest, sleep and exercise and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands of ailing folks. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These are Boston Cases:

Warren Avenue

Miss G. Dennett, 105 Warren Ave., says: "My kidneys were in bad condition. I felt run down and I was greatly inconvenienced and distressed by the irregular action of my kidneys. My back was weak and lame, too. Doan's Kidney Pills, used as directed, relieved all signs of the trouble in a short time. I gladly recommend this medicine to other sufferers from kidney trouble, for I know it is worthy of a trial."

Bartlett Street

C. A. Hofmann, foreman of picture frame company, 114 Bartlett St., gave the following statement on July 14, 1914: "Being on my feet continually caused weakness in my back that was very painful and annoying. I thought my kidneys needed attention, and as Doan's Kidney Pills were strongly recommended, I began their use. I didn't have to take this medicine long before I was quickly relieved of all trouble. This experience leads me to have strong faith in this kidney remedy, and I highly recommend it."

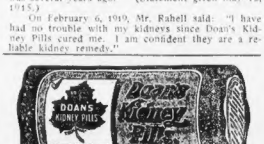
AGAIN PRAISES DOAN'S

On February 4, 1919, Mr. Hofmann said: "I have the same good words for Doan's Kidney Pills as I had when I first endorsed them. I heartily recommend this medicine to other kidney sufferers."

Sumner St. (E. Boston)

James A. Rahell, 345 Sumner St., East Boston, says: "I suffered quite a while with my back. It ached steadily and it was so weak I could hardly straighten up. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and caused me to arise several times at night. I tried different kidney preparations without help until hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me and I have had no trouble since. This was several years ago." (Statement given May 12, 1915.)

On February 6, 1919, Mr. Rahell said: "I have had no trouble with my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am confident they are a reliable kidney remedy."



NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple-leaf trade-mark and the signature—"Jas. Doan."

Paris St. (E. Boston)

Mrs. A. Lavery, 66 Paris St., East Boston, says: "I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills when I hear anyone complain of kidney trouble. I know from experience that Doan's are just as represented. I had backaches almost daily and felt dull and tired out. Frequent headaches and dizziness annoyed me and my kidneys acted irregularly. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills made my back well and strong and put my kidneys in good shape."

Dorchester Ave. (S. Boston)

Mrs. William F. Sterritt, 767 Dorchester Ave., South Boston, gave the following statement May 11, 1915: "My back was weak and painful and when I stood a little while or did much walking, my back felt as though it was breaking. Nights I couldn't sleep very well and would get up in the morning feeling lame and sore. I had no energy to go about my housework and during the day I suffered from severe headaches. After using a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, my back felt a good deal better and I was fixed up in the best of shape."

LASTING RESULTS

On February 6, 1919, Mrs. Sterritt added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me has been a lasting one."

BRAVES SHOW UP GIANTS IN 7-0 GAME BEFORE RECORD CROWD

KEEP HOLD ON FIRST PLACE

New York, May 10. — If that Braves-Detroit training trip has put the Tigers on the Fritz, it certainly hasn't affected the Boston Nationals that way. The way the Braves are clawing up the Giants on the Polo Grounds is considered nothing short of criminal on this Island.

The first place squad from Boston blew in for a one-day stand on their way West, and shared the fattest crowd New York has known this year. The Braves got paid more money than any team ever got for a single game in New York outside of the World's Series. It was the first on-city crowd of the year under the new price scale. At last G. W. Grant got a good break on the weather.

Braves Made Giants Look Bad

Boston made the Giants look pretty punk and the big crowd had little opportunity for any exciting. The Braves enjoyed every minute of it. Hearne Maranville cracked out the fifth hit of the eighth inning, Mostil drifted Artie Nehf and substituted Jesse Winters.

The Braves started in with quite a kick, and kicked big Fred Toney right out of the game in the second inning. A pass to Cruise, Holke's single, Boeckel's triple and Gowdy's bunt got a perfect squeeze play gave the Stallings bunch three runs.

Nehf, the former Brave star who succeeded Toney, went along nicely until the eighth, when he caught his. Five straight hits, with only a sacrifice and an error by Doyle bunched in, gave Boston four runs with only one out, when Artie, who took the long, long trail to the club house.

Giants Need New Infielders

McGraw's infield has as many holes in it as a piece of Swiss cheese. That Giant machine is going in a very rickety fashion, and it won't go much better until the New York club digs up some infielders, no matter where they pronounce them.

Hunny Hearne and Dick Rudolph pitched a joint shutout, of which most of the credit belongs to Dick. There was quite a bit of matching of managerial wits in the pre-game sizing between McGraw and Stallings and results proved that George did the better guessing.

Stallings Countered With Rudolph

After the Braves got three runs in their half the Giants got a bit obstreperous in their half. They had runners on third and second, one out, when Snyder came up. Stallings ordered him walked. McGraw then sent McCarty to bat for Toney, and Stallings countered by taking out Hearne and sending in Rudolph. Dick induced McCarty to fly to Mann, and then shut out the Giants for the rest of the game.

AJAX TRAINING HERE FOR BOUT WITH KILONIS

Tony Ajax is training in this city for his match with Joe Kilonis, scheduled for the Grand Opera House on Thursday night and the rough California wrestler is confident that when he gets through with the Greek the latter will be a beaten man.

RED SOX OUT TO TIE INDIANS

Seek to Regain Partnership in League Lead at Expense of Athletics

The Red Sox, temporarily ousted from leadership in the American League race, were out today to pull up to a tie for first place with the Cleveland Indians, who dispossessed the clan of Barrow while the latter were enjoying a restful Sabbath. The Sox had their chance as the latter were on the road East today.

The Bostonians were especially anxious to win, as victory will put only three games between them and the Athletics, but will enable them to make an even start with the Indians, the first of the Western teams to visit Fenway Park.

The Cleveland team has been travelling at a rapid clip this year, and only their inability to solve the offerings of Claude Williams of the White Sox prevents them from having a much firmer grip on first place than is theirs at the present time.

Series Shapes Up as Most Important of Year

The Red Sox-Indians' series shapes up as the most important of the year in the American League. Much depends on its outcome, for while a game won on any date and from any team counts just as much in the standing as any other victory, the fact remains that the impending conflicts which are scheduled to start tomorrow will have more to do with the making of breaking of the chances of the local representatives in the Johnson circuit.

Straight victories or three out of four games will not put the Red Sox well out in the front, but will give them that sort of confidence which will make them feel that they are safe for the remainder of the year. Straight defeats will be apt to throw the whole Barrow machine out of gear and make the problem of finishing "up there" a doubly difficult one.

Bush Vs. Perry on Mound Today

Wherefore Manager Barrow sent Joe Bush out to warm up for today's tilt with the Athletics. "Bullet Joe" had not pitched for about a week and was in the best of shape, so good in fact that Mack's only worry was finding the Red Sox back was the ability of Scott Perry, who was slated to do the hurling for the Athletics.

To make sure that the pitching would be of the very best variety Schang and Perkins were slated to do the receiving. The catchers' contest bade fair to rival the pitching duel in interest.

PRINCETON TO PLAY CHICAGO ON GRIDIRON

Princeton, N. J., May 10.—Final arrangements have been completed for a series of annual home-and-home intersectional football games between the elevens of Princeton University and the University of Chicago, according to an announcement made by G. R. Murray, graduate manager of the Princeton Athletic Association.

Due to the fact that the football schedule of the Tigers for next Fall is full the first game will be played in the Fall of 1921, when Chicago will come East to meet the Tigers in Palmer Stadium the latter part of October.

MAY CALL OFF READVILLE $10,000 STAKE EVENT

As Walter Cox and Tommy Murphy were the only two Grand Circuit regulars to send entries for the $10,000 handicap race at Readville, it is probable that the event will be called off. Final action in the matter will be taken some time this week by the directors of the Boston Fair Company.

Those men knew that a $10,000 handicap would prove an excellent drawing feature at the box office, provided, of course, it presented a worth-while field of horses.

The conditions governing it were made simple so that a horse would require no serious amount of special training. It was offered purely as a sporting novelty and should have been liberally supported, if reopened it may be.

YALE SHAPES UP AS WINNER

On Dope Elis Should Run Away With Track Meet in Stadium Saturday

By CHARLES E. PARKER

A blue cloud is due to envelop the Harvard Stadium this week.

Yale's track and field team makes its biennial appearance in that open air edifice on Saturday and unless the "dopers" are all wrong there will be a considerable rejoicing among Eli adherents when the points of the annual Harvard-Yale dual meet are totalled.

Harvard is not over strong set of runners, jumpers and heavers has been rendered still weaker by rulings of the professors who believed the scholastic efforts of George Kroginess, Fabe Brown and one or two others could be improved, with the result that the Crimson will face the Blue boasting only three first class performers.

Captain O'Connell, its miler; Harwood, its pole vaulter, and Gourdin, its sprinter and broad jumper, comprise this trio, and the best they could produce in four first places and, at least, one of these first places—the pole vault—appears a bit uncertain. There are thirteen events on the dual program, and seven of these appear already to bear a Yale trade mark, while in two others the Eli chances of winning are considered the better.

Excellent Marks Made in Saturday's Meets

Everything considered—particularly the mud and slime that coated running tracks, runways and pits, and the utensils employed in the field events—the marks made by the college athletes of this section in Saturday's ten of a dozen dual and interscholastic meets, were of very high order.

The day's record holders and their marks are as follows: One hundred-yard dash, Macchia, Tufts, 10 4-5 seconds, in Eastern Intercollegiates; 220-yard dash, Dignan, Holy Cross, 22 2-5 seconds, in Eastern Intercollegiates; 440-yard run, Eby, Pennsylvania, 52 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; 880-yard run, Eby, Pennsylvania, 2 minutes 1-5 second, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; one-mile run, Swede, Princeton, 4 minutes 24-5 seconds, in Yale-Princeton meet; two-mile run, Baker, Bates, 10 minutes 32-5 seconds, in Bates-Bowdoin meet; 120-yard high hurdles, Thomson, Dartmouth, 15 4-5 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; 220-yard low hurdles, Thomson, Dartmouth, 25 4-5 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; high jump, Thomson, Dartmouth, 5 feet 8½ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; broad jump, Davis, Pennsylvania, 22 feet 1¼ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; pole vault, tie between Meyers and Jordan of Dartmouth and Landers and Bullock of Penn, 12 feet, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; hammer throw, Weld, Dartmouth, 140 feet 6 inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; shot put, Cann, New York University, 44 feet, in Wesleyan-New York University meet; discus throw, Clark, Annapolis, 128 feet 8 inches, in Syracuse-Annapolis meet.

Excellent Golf Matches

Only the bravest golfers trudged through the rain Saturday afternoon in the club events, and the winners deserved the prizes they won. A number of club events were cancelled. The winners were:

Wollaston—Club championship qualifying round: F. H. State, 87—74; best gross, A. M. Hosie, 84.

Commonwealth—Four-ball, selected, 18 holes: J. A. Colton, C. E. Murnan, F. N. Derousel, G. C. Drury, 37—32—69.

Bree Burn—Qualifying round for President's Cup: R. Manning, 94—78; best gross, R. E. Mosser.

Hunkydonk—Qualifying round: E. B. Smith, 93—77; best gross, C. A. Hartwell, 82.

KRAMER DEFEATS GOULLET IN TWO STRAIGHT HEATS

Newark, N. J., May 10.—Frank Kramer defeated Alfred Goullet in two straight heats today in a mile match race at the Velodrome. Orlando Piani and Oscar Egg won over Eddie Madden and Jake Magin in the mile team match, two out of three heats.

Ray Eaton defeated Egg in the five mile and Jack Kopsky and Charley Piercey beat John and Menus Bedell in an Australian pursuit team match.

YALE AND HARVARD CLASS CREWS TO RACE

The champion class crews of Harvard and Yale will meet Saturday, May 22, at New Haven for the dual title. Harvard won last season. Previous to the date of the regatta the class crews at Harvard will battle to see which will have the honor of opposing the Eli champs.

U. S. G. A. MOVES TO STOP POOLS

Move to Eliminate Gambling Evil From Game—Bay State Captain to Play in England

By ROBERT E. HARLOW.

Professional gamblers who hoped to profit at the expense of tournament golf this Summer will feel sad upon learning that officials of the United States Golf Association have decided to bar them from the Royal and Ancient game. Pool selling will not be permitted at any of the national championships, and club officers have been urged to prevent this sort of lawlessness at all tournaments held under their jurisdiction.

The ruling will block the effort which certain professional gamblers and some semi-professionals have been scheming to work themselves at the expense of a good game. The majority of enthusiastic golfers who flock to the national championships have no other thought in mind but to witness experts in keen competition for national titles, but there are always a few who cheapen the meeting by introducing too much gambling.

The letter which the U. S. G. A. officials have sent out follows:

"It has come to the attention of the Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association that pool selling on a large scale has been practiced recently at various club tournaments. At a meeting of the Executive Committee it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that the best interests of the game are endangered by such practices, and, further, that the selling of pools at tournaments held under the auspices of the United States Golf Association be condemned. The committee earnestly requests the co-operation of the secretaries of member clubs in suppressing such practices at all tournaments."

Action by the Executive Committee was hastened because of the widespread pool making on golf tournaments held in the south this Winter. The officials are nipping the thing in the bud right at the start, and if the gamblers insist on "making books" they will have to do it outside of the vicinity of the clubhouse.

Arlmont Golfer Dies on Links

Members of the Arlmont Golf Club were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Theodore S. Ingham, one of their number, who was fatally stricken Sunday after driving from the second tee at the Arlington Heights course. He had been a favorite at the course since the club was organized.

Harry Hilton, the British amateur, who won the American championship once, is elated over the playing of Carin, Jr., who visited the Yale University students, and remarked: "As long as we can produce young players like Dickie Carin and Wethered we need not fear the coming generation of American golfers."

William Prescott Wise of Boston was one of the entrants in a handicap golf tournament at Moore Carin, for which the Prince of Monaco was sponsor.

VARDON, HAGEN'S GOLF IDEAL

Open Champion Recalls First Time He Ever Saw the Britisher in Action

By WALTER HAGEN,
Open Golf Champion.

Now that I am about to come face to face again with Harry Vardon, the acknowledged leader of golf in Great Britain, if not in the world, it recalls to mind my first meeting with him and the impressions he made on me on his last visit in this country.

Before I knew much about the game from a competitive standpoint, I had heard of Vardon—had always wanted to see him play and would rather have shaken hands with him than any other man in the world. Such was the influence that the great Vardon had on me now on most young boys who carried golf bags and had ideas of some day becoming pros.

Where I saw most of Vardon was at Brookline in the year that Ouimet beat him and Ray in the never-to-be-forgotten play-off after a tie at the end of the second two holes. I will hardly forget that tournament as there was a time when I had a chance to break up the whole affair and win the championship myself. Perhaps it is inexperience, perhaps my game was lacking, or maybe I can lay it to nervousness, anyway I failed, and he beat I could do was a tie with Jim James Macdonald, Smith and one or two others for fourth place, three strokes removed from the lead.

Was First Tournament for Open Champion

I have been beaten by the, mighty Vardon, but not by any means disgraced. I was playing in my first championship and not only was it the first time I had ever met Vardon, but the best pros of our own country as well. Little Jimmy McDermott, Alex Smith, Gil Nichols, Mike Brady, Jim James and other stars were new to me, and I was a total stranger to them. In fact, I had some advantage over them inasmuch as I knew them by sight, while I myself had not ever accomplished anything to attract their attention or any one else's for that matter.

The information came to me at the nine holes of the play-off that I had a chance to win if I could sink in with thirty-seven. This was not quite impossible feat, but those to see this tournament and remember the weather conditions will agree with me that it was a step way higher than to be expected than otherwise. I never on one hole put me out of the running.

I had caught glimpses of Vardon and by around the clubhouses and on the links, never lost an opportunity to see him make a shot and would have followed Vardon around had I not been playing myself. Naturally I was more interested in Vardon than any one else, but I impressed me as mighty bitter and I don't think I ever saw a man hit a golf ball further, or that is up to that time anyway. I don't know whether he can hit them any further than Bob McIntyre, but I really would like to see these two at their best in a driving contest.

Vardon Had Wonderful Style to Watch

Vardon's style was wonderful to watch. He drives without apparent effort and not considerable distance, I should say, but he is remarkably long drives in what little I observed him play, but I do remember that he kept his left heel up shots very straight. This I thought at the time was one of the secrets of his success, and I am sure it was my ambition early in youth to be a champion of some sort or other, I chose golf in preference to ball, but it was a close call and didn't decide to make. There was a better way of learning than by aching a champion and I took this course. Not one day passed by but every time he made a move just had watched great ball players do.

As I said before, Vardon's drive is beautiful thing to watch and in which the rhythm was so perfect that it was almost monotonous to watch. One drive was like another. I don't think I noticed this before in watching other golfers, and am quite sure that no one in the world drives as consistently day in and day out.

Style and Comfort Rest assured-

HAYES WILL GIVE OWENS BATTLE

Boxers Meet in 12-Round Final at Union Square A. C., Somerville, Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

Paddy Owens, brilliant Cambridge bantamweight, will receive plenty of opposition when he clashes with Chick Hayes in a twelve-round bout at the Union Square Club, Somerville, tonight. Owens has been performing at a lively clip of late and believes he will prove he is the best man of his weight in this section of the country.

Hayes has been an active campaigner in New England rings during the past year. His willing style of milling and clever boxing have won him many admirers. They will be on hand this p. m. rooting for him to put over a victory.

Larry Conley has also arranged a bang-up preliminary card.

Capacity Crowd Expected When Carpentier Shows

It is expected that Mechanics Building will be filled to capacity tomorrow night when Georges Carpentier makes his only New England appearance at the Armory A. A. a show. The American people like a fair bout and they naturally turn out by the thousands whenever Carpentier shows. There were 15,000 fans at the Carpentier show in Pittsburgh, while 50,000 greeted the famous Frenchman on his arrival in Baltimore.

Carpentier will box four rounds with one of his sparring partners. He says he will convince New England fans that he has better than an even chance of defeating Jack Dempsey. Carpentier is fast, can box and is also a deadly puncher.

No fighter in the world has a record which equals that of Carpentier. He was great as a boxer. He was even greater as a soldier. Four years of warfare spoke only to have taken away any of his brilliancy. In fact, he is today more brilliant than ever. His one-round victory over Joe Beckett proved that he is one of the wonders of the ring game. After four years in the Great War Carpentier was able to stop the British heavyweight champion with a punch.

Thirty-six Rounds of Boxing at Triple A

Carpentier will be supported by thirty-six rounds of stirring fighting. Young Gould, Brockton lightweight, and Charley Shepherd, local boy, will clash in a ten-round bout. These boys met last week, Sheppard winning the decision after a rough battle. Gould now wants revenge.

Freddy Williams of Dorchester and Young Thaler of Manchester, N. H., will meet in another ten-round affair. These boys are also in total strangers to engagements. Joe Butler of Rochester and Sammy Schiff of Harrisburg will mix in the six-round semi-windup number. There will also be a six-round match.

Young Montreal Makes Fine Showing

Young Montreal is deserving of consideration from local matchmakers after the fine showing he made against Jack Sharkey at the Lexington Montreal is the only boxer who has won a decision over Sharkey since the latter defeated Young Wiles. Montreal is a fine boxer and says he is ready to meet Terry Martin or any of the other New England bantamweights.

Fought for $50, Now Turns Down $8,000 Offer

A year ago Johnny Wilson fought for $50 at Camp Devens and was mighty glad to get that much money. Last week Marty Killilea, manager of the new middleweight champion, turned down an $8,000 offer from a New Jersey promoter. Wilson is to box an eight-round no-decision match with Jackie Clarke. Fame is, indeed, a fickle jade.

Many Fighters After Wilson's Scalp

Mike Gibbons, Mike O'Dowd and about every other fighter worthy of mention is now seeking a match with Wilson. Right at home George Robinson should get first consideration from the new champion. When Wilson was finding it hard to get matches, Robinson, who was then in big demand by the promoters, gave him a chance to distinguish himself. Robinson has also landed many attractive matches. Robinson only asks that Wilson keep his promise he made before the Clay-O'Dowd contest. At that time Johnny said he would give Robinson a chance.

Renault Hands Jolt to Battling Levinsky

Jack Renault handed Battling Levinsky quite a surprise when he held that worthy even. Renault is a mighty promising heavyweight. He has a good punch and is fast and is fast mastering the fine points of the ring game. There are few heavyweights in this section of the country who can beat this husky warrior.

BRITISH BODY TO SEE HUB STORES

Merchants Touring U. S. Will Be Tendered Luncheon at Copley-Plaza

Plans were completed today by the Retail Trade Board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of the delegation of British merchants who are coming to Boston, Wednesday, to inspect the methods employed at the large Boston retail establishments.

In the visiting party will be twenty of England's leading store owners, representing the Drapers' Chamber of Trade of the United Kingdom, and about sixteen prominent American retail men. They will be met at the Back Bay station at 7:30 a. m. by President F. Alexander Chandler and Vice-President Felix Vorenberg of the Retail Trade Board. Breakfast will be served at the Copley-Plaza, and the visitors will be welcomed to Boston by Mayor Peters, President John H. Macomber of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and E. A. Filene.

From 10 a. m. to noon the visitors will be taken on a tour of Boston stores, the delegation being divided into several small groups. Members of the governing board of the Retail Trade Board will accompany the visitors.

The principal feature of the day will be the luncheon at the Copley-Plaza at 12:30, at which Governor Coolidge, Felix Vorenberg and representatives of the visiting merchants will be the speakers. It is expected that 500 persons will attend the luncheon. The balcony has been reserved for women, where luncheon will be served them.

From 3 to 5 p. m. there will be an automobile tour to points of interest in and around Boston, after which dinner will be served at the Brae-Burn Country Club.

Paris in Glee Over U. S. Millionaires

Paris, May 10.—"Gay Paree" is particularly gay these days because the predictions of an invasion by America's money kings and queens is coming true. It is conservatively estimated that American wealth arriving in Paris daily amounts to $20,000,000. The Mauretania alone, just in, had a list of millionaires aggregating $50,000,000.

"And they are no pikers, these Americans," said one prominent Rue de la Paix store proprietor gleefully.

Kemble, director of publicity.

SEE PARTY SPLIT OVER TREATY

Wilson's Demand for an Indorsement Dooms Democrats, Say Republicans

By International News Service.

Washington, May 10.—President Wilson's telegram to G. E. Hamaker, one of the Democratic leaders in Oregon, stating the party must stand by the Treaty of Versailles and League of Nations, characterized by him as "the hope of the world," was vigorously commented upon here today.

Republicans assumed the position that the telegram makes it perfectly obvious that the President will insist that the Democratic delegates indorse the treaty, as it came from Paris and base the party's campaign for the Presidency on an unconditional ratification of the pact as it stands.

This, they declare, means not only a divided party, but will spell defeat for it next November.

Democratic leaders, however, insist the President merely repeated what he has already stated time and time again in his speeches made while on his swing around the country last Fall and in his writings made public during the fight against the treaty in the Senate.

They say the President is merely consistent and that at the San Francisco convention the party will be found solidly behind the administration.

Is a Bad Back Wearing You Out?

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

ARE you dragging yourself around day in and day out, with a dull, never-ceasing backache? Do you feel tired, discouraged, irritable and without life or ambition for the simplest task? Are you lame in the morning, subject to headaches and dizzy spells, and bothered with sharp, sudden, knife-like pains at every move? Then there's surely something wrong. Probably it's kidney weakness—not hard to overcome if treated promptly, but very dangerous if neglected. Don't wait for some serious kidney trouble to take hold. Get back your health and keep it. For quick relief, get plenty of rest, sleep and exercise and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands of ailing folks. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These are Boston Cases:

Warren Avenue

Miss G. Bennett, 105 Warren Ave., says: "My kidneys were in bad condition. I felt run down and I was greatly inconvenienced and distressed by the irregular action of my kidneys. My back was weak and lame, too. Doan's Kidney Pills, used as directed, relieved all signs of the trouble in a short time. I gladly recommend this medicine to other sufferers from kidney trouble, for I know it is worthy of a trial."

Bartlett Street

C. A. Hofmann, foreman of picture frame company, 114 Bartlett St., gave the following statement on July 14, 1914: "Being on my feet continually caused weakness in my back that was very painful and annoying. I thought my kidneys needed attention, and as Doan's Kidney Pills were strongly recommended, I began their use. I didn't have to take this medicine long before I was quickly relieved of all trouble. This experience leads me to have strong faith in this kidney remedy, and I highly recommend it."

AGAIN PRAISES DOAN'S

On February 4, 1919, Mr. Hofmann said: "I have the same good words for Doan's Kidney Pills as I had when I first endorsed them. I heartily recommend this medicine to other kidney sufferers."

Sumner St. (E. Boston)

James A. Rahell, 345 Sumner St., East Boston, says: "I suffered quite a while with my back. It ached steadily and it was so weak I could hardly straighten up. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and caused me to arise several times at night. I tried different kidney preparations without help until hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me and I have had no trouble since. This was several years ago." (Statement given May 12, 1915.)

On February 6, 1919, Mr. Rahell said: "I have had no trouble with my kidneys since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am confident they are a reliable kidney remedy."

NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple-leaf trade-mark and the signature—"Jas. Doan."

Paris St. (E. Boston)

Mrs. A. Lavery, 66 Paris St., East Boston, says: "I always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills when I hear anyone complain of kidney trouble. I know from experience that Doan's are just as represented. I had backaches almost daily and felt dull and tired out. Frequent headaches and dizziness annoyed me and my kidneys acted irregularly. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills made my back well and strong and put my kidneys in good shape."

Dorchester Ave. (S. Boston)

Mrs. William F. Sterritt, 767 Dorchester Ave., South Boston, gave the following statement May 11, 1915: "My back was weak and painful and when I stood a little while or did much walking, my back felt as though it was breaking. Nights I couldn't sleep very well and would get up in the morning feeling lame and sore. I had no energy to go about my housework and during the day I suffered from severe headaches. After using a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, my back felt a good deal better and I was fixed up in the best of shape."

LASTING RESULTS

On February 6, 1919, Mrs. Sterritt added: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me has been a lasting one."

ONE coat will usually outwear two pairs of trousers. So in these suits at $48.50, you get two-trouser wear at a one-trouser price—good woolens; good styles (seventeen different ones to pick from) and BIG Filene values. True economy!

Better than a markdown, because they're NEW. In "regular" sizes only. Best picking for the early birds

KEEP HOLD ON FIRST PLACE

New York, May 10. — If that Braves-Detroit training trip has put the Tigers on the Fritz, it certainly hasn't affected the Boston Nationals that way. The way the Braves are chewing up the Giants on the Polo Grounds is considered nothing short of criminal on this Island.

The first place squad from Boston blew in for a one-day stand on their way West, and shared in the fattest crowd New York has known this year. The Braves got paid more money than any Team ever got for a single game in New York outside of the World's Series. It was the first capacity crowd of the year under the new price scale. At last G. W. Grant got a good break on the weather.

Braves Made Giants Look Bad

Boston made the Giants look pretty punk and the big crowd had little opportunity for any exulting. The Braves enjoyed every minute of it. After Maranville cracked out the fifth hit of the eighth inning, McGraw lifted Artie Nehf and substituted Jesse Winters.

The Braves started in with quite a blaze, and kicked Oscar Fred Toney right out of the game in the second inning. A pass to Cruise, Holke's single, Boeckel's triple and Gowdy's bunt on a perfect squeeze play gave the Stallings bunch three runs.

Nehf, the former Brave star who succeeded Toney, went along nicely until the eighth, when he caught his Five straight hits, with only a sacrifice and an error by Doyle bunched in, gave Boston four runs, with only one out, when Artie, too, took the long, long trail to the club house.

Giants Need New Infielders

McGraw's infield has as many holes in it as a piece of Swiss cheese. That Giant machine is going to a very rickety fashion, and it won't go much better until the New York club digs up some infielders, no matter where they procure them.

Burry Hearne and Dick Rudolph pitched a joint shutout, of which most of the credit belongs to Dick. There was quite a bit of managerial wits in the second inning between Mcilraw and Stallings and results proved that George did the better guessing.

Stallings Countered With Rudolph

After the Braves got three runs in their half the Giants got a bit obstreperous in their frame. Burns and Youngers on third and second, with one out, when Snyder came up. Stallings ordered him walked. McGraw then sent McCarty to bat for Toney, and Stallings countered by taking out Hearne and sending for Rudolph. Dick induced McCarty to fly to Mann, and then shut out the Giants for the rest of the game.

AJAX TRAINING HERE FOR BOUT WITH KILONIS

Tony Ajax is training in this city for his match with Joe Kilonis, scheduled for the Grand Opera House on Thursday night. At the crack California wrestler believes that when he gets through with the Greek his letter will be a thank you.

RED SOX OUT TO TIE INDIANS

Seek to Regain Partnership in League Lead at Expense of Athletics

The Red Sox, temporarily ousted from leadership in the American League race, were out today to pull up to a tie for first place with the Cleveland Indians, who dispossessed the clan of Barrow while the latter were enjoying a restful Sabbath. The Sox had their chance as the latter were on the road East today.

The Bostonians were especially anxious to win, as victory will not only give them the series with the Athletics, but will enable them to make an even start with the Indians, the first of the Western teams to visit Fenway Park.

The Cleveland team has been travelling at a rapid clip this year, and only their inability to solve the offerings of Claude Williams of the White Sox prevents them, from having a much firmer grip on first place than is theirs at the present time.

Series Shapes Up as Most Important of Year

The Red Sox-Indians' series shapes up as the most important of the year in the American League. Much depends on its outcome, for while a game won on any date and from any team counts just as much in the standing as any other victory, the fact remains that the impending conflicts which are scheduled to start tomorrow will have much to do with the making of breaking of the chances of the local representatives in the Johnson circuit.

Straight victories or three out of four games will not put the Red Sox well out in the front, but will give them that sort of confidence which will help them to overcome contended for the remainder of the year. Straight defeats will be apt to throw the whole Barrow machine out of gear and make the problem of finishing "up there" a doubly difficult one.

Bush Vs. Perry on Mound Today

Wherefore Manager Barrow sent Joe Bush out to warm up for today's tilt with the Athletics. "Bullet Joe" had not pitched for about a week and was in the best of shape, so good fact that Mack's only hope of outdoing the Red Sox hack was the ability of Scott Perry, who was slated to do the hurling for the Athletics.

To make sure that the pitching would be of the very best variety Schang and Perkins were slated to do the receiving. The catchers' content bode fair to rival the pitching duel in interest.

YALE SHAPES UP AS WINNER

On Dope Elis Should Run Away With Track Meet in Stadium Saturday

By CHARLES E. PARKER

A blue cloud is due to envelop the Harvard Stadium this week.

Yale's track and field team makes its biennial appearance in that open air edifice on Saturday and unless the "figgers" are all wrong there will be considerable rejoicing among Eli adherents when the points of the annual Harvard-Yale dual meet are totalled.

Harvard's not over strong set of runners, jumpers and heavers has been rendered still weaker by rulings of the powers who believed the scholastic efforts of George Krogness, Fiske Brown and one or two others could be improved, with the result that the Crimson will face the Blue boasting only three first class performers.

Captain O'Connell, its miler; Harwood, its pole vaulter, and Gourdin, its sprinter and broad jumper, comprise this trio, and the best they could produce in first places and, at best only one of these first places—the pole vault—appears a bit uncertain, there are thirteen events on the dual program, and seven of these appear already to bear a Yale trade mark, while in two others the Eli chance of winning are considered the better.

Excellent Marks Made in Saturday's Meets

Everything considered—particularly the mud and slime that coated running tracks, runways and pits, and the utensils employed in the field events—the marks made by the college athletes of this section in Saturday's ten or a dozen dual and intercollegiate meets, were of a very high order.

The day's record holders and their marks were as follows: One hundred-yard dash, Macchia, Tufts, 10 1-5 seconds, in Eastern Intercollegiate 220-yard dash, Dignan, Holy Cross, 22 2-5 seconds, in Eastern Intercollegiate 440-yard dash, Maxam, Pennsylvania, 52 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; 880-yard run, Tony Pennsylvania, 2 minutes 1-5 second, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; one-mile run, Swede, Princeton, 4 minutes 24 4-5 seconds, in Yale-Princeton meet; two-mile run, Blake, Bates, 18 minutes 13 3-5 seconds, in Bates-Bowdoin meet; 120-yard high hurdles, Thomson, Dartmouth, 15 4-5 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; 220-yard low hurdles, Thomson, Dartmouth, 25 4-5 seconds, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; high jump, Thomson, Dartmouth, 5 feet 9½ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; broad jump, Davis, Pennsylvania, 23 feet 1¾ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; pole vault, tie between Meyers and Jordon of Dartmouth and Landers and Bullock of Penn, 12 feet, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; hammer throw, Weld, Dartmouth, 160 feet 6 inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; high jump, Thomson, Dartmouth, 5 feet 9½ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; broad jump, Davis, Pennsylvania, 23 feet 1¾ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; pole vault, tie between Meyers and Jordon of Dartmouth and Landers and Bullock of Penn, 12 feet, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; hammer throw, Weld, Dartmouth, 160 feet 6 inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; high jump, Thomson, Dartmouth, 5 feet 9½ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; broad jump, Davis, Pennsylvania, 23 feet 1¾ inches, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; pole vault, tie between Meyers and Jordon of Dartmouth and Landers and Bullock of Penn, 12 feet, in Penn-Dartmouth meet; 220-yard low hurdles, Thomson, Dartmouth, 25 4-5 seconds

This Day in History—May 10, 1920

THIS is the anniversary of the birth, in 1760, of Roguet de l'Isle, composer of the famous Marseillaise. The song received its name from its use by the troops from Marseilles, who came marching to its strains during the Revolution. It is the most stirring of all national anthems.

Take a Look at Old Father Saturn

THE planet Saturn, which gets its name from the old Greek "father of the gods," is now well placed for observation in the early evening sky. It requires only a small telescope to show his wonderful rings, the only thing of the kind in the solar system, if not in the universe. At present they are showing their flat southern surfaces.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE Paige pew was as much of an institution in the old Congregational Church of Summerfield as was the spire itself. Ever since the building of the sacred edifice a Paige had owned this particular pew on the centre aisle. On Sunday mornings it was always occupied.

The morning following the events just recorded, Arthur Paige, his sister and his niece were in their places as usual. It is, perhaps, safe to say that each member of the trio found some difficulty in fixing his or her thoughts on the sermon delivered by old Dr. Burke.

Arthur was still turning over in his mind the statement made by his sister at dinner last night. John Brandon and little Bab! Could it be possible?

On the Veranda

Cynthia was recalling the brief glimpse she had of her niece and Robert Elliot on the moonlit veranda. The scene had determined her upon immediate action. That silly affair must be checked before it was a day older. She was glad to remember that Robert Elliott was returning to New York this afternoon.

As for Barbara herself, she sat in a sweet day-dream. She saw no incongruity in thinking of Robert in this sacred place. Her love for him was as pure and sweet as was the perfect June morning. Surely God himself could not blame her for being happy in the knowledge of Robert's affection for her!

Her lover did not attend this church. He was an Episcopalian. She wished she were one, too. She did not know just why she wished this. Perhaps it was only because Robert and she might be at this moment under the same roof and listening to the same words. When they were married she would go to his church, of course. But if she did this Aunt Cynthia would be horrified.

She started from her revery. The sermon was over. The deacons were passing the collection plates.

John Brandon was a deacon in the Congregational Church. He took up the collection on the centre aisle. Barbara avoided meeting his eyes as she laid on the plate her contribution. Uncle Arthur had handed it to her as she left the house this morning.

This recollection arrested her wandering thoughts. Uncle Arthur gave her everything—including the money which she was supposed to donate to charity. She was dependent upon him for every cent—even for what she gave away.

Her conscience smote her. Until yesterday she had taken all this for granted. She had been brought up like her uncle's own child. But Aunt Cynthia had started reflections the girl had never had before.

She had thrust the idea of dependence from her mind yesterday, and it had not returned until last night, just when she wanted to be happy in her love for Robert and in his love for her. Like a grisly spectre it had come to her then, and she had remembered her aunt's warning. That was why she had spoken as she did to her lover. He had assured her that he could provide for her—soon. But, of course, not yet. He had not said this, but she understood his meaning.

Well, that would be all right. Uncle Arthur would take care of her a little longer—it might be only for a year or two more.

She rose to her feet with the rest of the congregation as the Doxology was sung. Then, when the Benediction had been pronounced, she followed her relatives down the aisle, her mind still intent on the problem confronting her.

In the vestibule the Paiges came face to face with John Brandon. He stepped forward eagerly, his hat in his hand.

An Invitation

"Isn't this a glorious June day?" he exclaimed. "May I walk a part of the way up the street with you?"

"Certainly!" Aunt Cynthia acquiesced cordially.

"Ah, John, good morning!" Arthur Paige said. If there was a shade of embarrassment in the greeting, Barbara was too absorbed in her own affairs to notice it.

The quartet crossed the broad square on which the church stood, then, at the corner of the avenue, Cynthia and her brother stepped in front of John and Barbara, leaving the two to walk side by side.

All at once Cynthia Paige paused and turned around.

"Mr. Brandon," she said, "why don't you come home to dinner with us?"

Brandon's face lit up eagerly.

"Thank you! I would like to, if—with a glance at Arthur—"you are sure it is entirely convenient to you to have me."

The Young Diana

By Marie Corelli

"WHEN you are not satisfied?" asked Madame a little sorrowfully. "You are not happy?"

Diana moved to the open window, and with an expressive gesture, pointed to the fair landscape of lake and mountain.

"With this I am happy!" she answered. "With this I am satisfied! I feel that all this is part of Me!—it is one with me and I with it—my own blood cannot be closer to me than this air and light. But the pleasure a woman is supposed to take in her looks if she is beautiful,—the delight in pretty things for one's self—this does not touch me. I have lost all such sensations. When I was a girl I rather liked to look at myself in the glass,—to try contrasts of color or wear a dainty jewelled trinket,—but now when I see in the mirror a lovely face that does not belong to me, I am not even interested!"

Not So Sure

"But, my dear Diana, the lovely face does belong to you!" exclaimed Madame Dimitrius. "You are yourself, and no other!"

Diana looked at her rather wistfully.

"I am not so sure of that!" she said. "Now please don't think I am losing my senses, for I'm not! I'm perfectly sane, and my thoughts are particularly clear. But Science is a terrible thing!—it is a realization more or less of the Egyptian Sphinx—a sort of monster with the face of a spirit and the body of an animal. Science, dear Madame—please don't look so frightened—has lately taught men more about killing each other than curing! It also tells us that nothing is, or can be, lost; all sights and sounds are garnered up in the treasure houses of air and space. The forms and faces of human creatures long dead are about us—the aura of their personalities remains, though their bodies have perished. Now I feel just as if I had unconsciously absorbed somebody else's outward personality—and here I am, making use of it as a sort of cover to my own. My own interior self admires my outward appearance without any closer connection than that felt by anyone looking at a picture. I live within the picture —and no one seeing the picture could think it was I!"

Poor Madame Dimitrius listened to Diana's strange analysis of herself with feelings of mingled bewilderment and terror. In her own mind she began to be convinced that her son's "experiment" would destroy his "subjects" mentality.

"It seems all very dreadful!" she murmured, tremblingly. "And I think, dear Diana, you should say something of this to Feodor. For I am afraid he is making you suffer, and that you are unhappy."

"No—that is not so," and Diana smiled reassuringly. "I do not suffer—I have forgotten what suffering is like! And I am not unhappy, because what is called 'happiness' has no special meaning for me. I exist—that is all! I am conscious of the principal things of existence—air, light, movement—these keep me living without any real effort or desire on my own part to live!"

She spoke in a dreamy way, with a far-off look in her eyes—then, perceiving that Madame Dimitrius looked nervously distressed, she brought herself back from her dreamland as it were with an effort, and went on:

"You must not worry about me in the least, dear Madame! After all, it may be an excellent thing for me that I appear to have done with emotions! One has only to think how people constantly distress themselves for nothing! People who imagine themselves in love, for instance—how they torment themselves night and day!—if they fail to get letters from each other! —if they quarrel!—if they think themselves neglected!—why, it is a perpetual turbulence! Then the parents who spend all their time looking after their children!—and the children grow up and go their own way—they grow from pretty little angels into great awkward men and women, and it is as if one had played with charming dolls, and then saw them suddenly changed into clothes-props! Well, I am free from all these tiresome trivialities—I have what I think the gods must have—Indifference!"

Madame Dimitrius sighed.

"Ah, Diana, it is a pity you were never made a happy wife and mother!" she said, softly.

"I thought so, too—once!" and Diana laughed carelessly—"But I'm sure I'm much better off as I am! Now, dear, we'll part for the present. I want to rest a little—and to say my prayers—before Dr. Feodor sends for me."

Kissed Her Tenderly

Madame at once rose to leave the room. But, before doing so, she took Diana in her arms and kissed her tenderly.

"God bless and guard thee, dear child!" she murmured. "Thou art brave and loyal, and I have grown to love thee! If Feodor should bring thee to harm, he is no son of mine!"

For a moment the solitary-hearted, unloved woman felt a thrill of pleasure in this simple expression of affection—the real sensation of youth filled her veins, as if she were a confiding girl with her mother's arms about her, and something like tears sprung to her eyes.

But she suppressed the emotion quickly. Smiling and apparently unmoved, she let the gentle old lady go from her, and watched her to the last as she moved with the careful step of age along the entresol and out through the entrance to the head of the staircase, where she disappeared. Once alone, Diana stood for a few moments lost in thought. She knew instinctively as had reached the final test of his mysterious dealings with the innocent heart of Madame Dimitrius.

One of the most famous Berthas was the wife of Pepin and mother of Charlemagne, known as "Bertha aux grands pieds." Another Bertha of historical fame was her daughter, sister of Charlemagne and wife of Orlando, who being in want, supported herself spinning until her son won recognition from his powerful uncle.

Because of Queen Bertha of Switzerland the name has always been very popular there. It has also had great vogue in England since the Norman conquest, and even before that time it was in use, having named the daughter of Chilperic, King of Paris, and wife of Ethelbert of Kent, who smoothed the way for St. Augustine's mission. It is used quite commonly in France and Germany, and in Dante's time was so frequent in Italy that its pieces Monna Berta with Ser Martin as the chief of the gossips. Southey gave it additional vogue in England by so-calling one of his heroines, and it even penetrated Greece by the marriage of a German princess of that name to a Greek emperor.

Bertha's talismanic stone is the beryl, which is said to keep its bearer amiable and with inconquerable charm. Wearing a beryl will reawaken love in married people. Sunday is her lucky day and 2 her lucky number.

BERTHA

BERTHA, signifying bright, has an extraordinary ecclesiastical flavor. In old German chronicles the feast of Theophania is translated by a word meaning brightened night and the root of that word was "perahta." How peralta, or berahta, became an individual character is too involved for space here, but it is sufficient to say that Perahta, or Bertha, was a sacred being, called, in an old Alsatian poem, the mild Berchte, in whose honor all young farmers dance, ring cattle bells and blow whistles throughout the night of the feast.

She is pictured as an old white-haired woman with a long nose who creeps into nurseries and comforts little children neglected by their nurses. In other stories she is used as a figure of terror to frighten children and is the avenger of idle spinners. Frau Bertha is undoubtedly the impersonation of the old mythical Huldr, and other etymologists believe her to be another name for the goddess Freya, wife of Odin.

Bachelor Girl's Reflections

By HELEN ROWLAND

Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

EVERY friend is a looking glass—and we love the flattering ones best.

Why should any man have an aversion to marrying a flirt? A girl who has been kissed before is much less likely to wonder, after marriage, how OTHER men make love

Marriage is like a fireless cooker. The toughest, if they remain in it long enough, sometimes come out sweet and tender.

Once upon a time, you could be a teetotaler if you wanted to; but now if you decline a man's offer to lead you to his wine cellar he acts as hurt as though you had beaten his only child.

Marriage is NOT a failure. Some husbands and wives may be failures—but so are a lot of sculptors and artists and writers and others requiring a highly specialized genius.

To the average mother "Leisure" is that sweet interval in which all the rest of the family are busy trying to find something else for her to do.

The thing that has driven more women to take the train for Reno and more men to take the downward path than anything else is the tendency to substitute German kultur for French politeness after marriage.

Next to canned herring, the most quickly and easily "spoiled" thing on earth is a husband.

Consult your husband about his tastes in food and his meal hours, but never about your own clothes. If you must consult somebody about your own personal affairs—oh, well, consult an alienist.

We Can't Save a Cent

THAT'S THE COMPLAINT OF MANY

By Loretto C. Lynch

"WE have an artistic sense," writes a correspondent, "but it is mighty hard to satisfy it when one has so little money to spend and furniture is higher than ever before. We find ourselves in possession of one of those old-time parlors—hair cloth furniture, dark woodwork, old carpets. We can spend some money on making it over, but we have not a great deal. Can you suggest anything?"

Why, certainly! I assisted two young ladies to make over a room with similar faults, but instead of walnut and haircloth, we had to deal with mission. Patience is a great factor in making so great a change in any room, but if you have patience and a regard for detail, you can make a bright, cheery room out of your parlor.

There is a chemical for sale in the paint stores now that removes both paint and varnish from woodwork. Several applications will be needed on the woodwork of the room, after which a thorough scrubbing with hot, soapy water, to which has been added a little washing soda. Let this wood become thoroughly dry before applying the first coat of white paint.

When that is thoroughly dry, apply a second coat. Finish with a coat of washable white enamel. If you tell the merchant the size of your room and the number of doors and windows, he will be able to tell you just about how much paint you will require.

It will make your room appear much larger if you have the walls finished in creamy yellow. There is for sale nowadays, a washable paint which has a flat finish and is very desirable. Or, the walls may be papered in a plain creamy oatmeal paper.

Sandpaper of a fine number will aid in removing the polish from the furniture frames. Finish the frames white like the woodwork. Then select a pretty cretonne. We used an imported cretonne, in a green-brown-old rose well subdued pattern for recovering the furniture and for new inner curtains.

In your case you might carefully cut off with a sharp knife, each piece of haircloth covering. Use this as a pattern for cutting the new material. Allow, of course, for the necessary turning in. Upholstery tacks with white heads may be used.

There is an excellent imitation of hardwood flooring on the market. And after your floor with its wide boards has been thoroughly cleansed, this material may be pasted in place so as to make a border for the rug you may have woven from your old carpet.

Go over the pictures you have on hand, select a few of general interest. Take them out of their old-time frames and have them reframed in plain black or brown wood frames.

The Arbitrament of Battle

A housemaid was left in charge of two small boys. "Well, Mary," asked their mother on her return, "how did you get on with them? Were they good?" "Oh, yes, ma'am," said Mary, "very good indeed, ma'am! Only at the end they would fight so." "Fight!" the horrified mother cried. "But why did you allow it? What were they fighting about?" "If you please, ma'am," said Mary, "they were fighting to decide which of them was behaving best."

Well Thought Out.

Willie came up to his mother with an expression of anxiety on his face.

"Ma," he asked, "if a poor little boy was to come to the back door and ask for something to eat, would you give him that piece of apple-tart that was left over from dinner?"

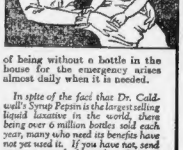
"Yes, Willie, of course I would!" said the mother gently.

"All right," he said, "just wait a minute till I run round to the back door."

How to Keep Baby Smiling and Well

See that the daily functions are regular and normal

YOU can't expect the little ones to be happy and playful when the head feels dull and the stomach bloated. The normal habit of children is to be happy and when you notice them cross and fretful you will usually find constipation is responsible.



Perhaps they have missed that daily function so necessary to comfort and health. Look at the tongue and see if the breath is bad. Watch for belching. These are the tell-tale symptoms of constipation. Tonight give a little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can buy at any drug store, and it will act in the morning and the troublesome symptoms promptly disappear.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. Unlike the harsher physics it acts gently and without griping so that while you get relief from it freely it can also be given to a tiny baby with perfect safety. Thousands of American families would not think of being without a bottle in the house for the emergency arises almost daily when it is needed.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois

Fat People Have Perverted Taste

Proof That Arbolene Removes Craving for Wrong Foods

Dissolves and Eliminates Fatty Tissues Harmlessly

Any Anti-Fat treatment that fails to correct the perverted appetite and craving for the very foods which make fat is certain to fail of permanent results. Mark that fact well! Five-grain tablets Arbolene removes the craving for undesirable fatty foods, restores natural appetite and digestion, while it dissolves fatty accumulations in the body and eliminates slowly but surely, without weakening or other evil effects.

Mrs. L. Holly, Imperial, Calif., writes:

"Kind Sirs: Have taken your Arbolene Tablets for obesity and in seven months reduced from 205 pounds to 152 pounds. I cannot say enough for them, and anybody who is fat should take them. My health is better than ever, etc."

Tablets Arbolene enjoy the largest sale of any obesity medicine, and they deserve it. Sold by all well stocked druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.—Advertisement.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headache, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brains an' "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

Stocks Irregular; Money 7%; Trading Quiet

OILS FIRST IN N.Y. MARKET

Equipments Are Strong; Steels All Irregular, and Prices Are Firm

By W. H. ROSS.
Financial Editor.

Stocks were irregular in New York at noon, but the market had a good undertone. It was at its highest in the second hour. American Woolen was the feature of the late forenoon. At its highest it showed nearly five points gain. Baldwin was another strong stock, advancing almost three. Mexican Petroleum was up nearly four. Oils led the list for gains. Steels were irregular and rails were a firm class. Trading was a moderate volume, first-hour transactions totalling about 225,000 shares. Call money remained at 7 per cent.

Foreign exchange rates were steady, sterling and francs being unchanged in quotations at the start while lire were a little lower. Opening figures were as follows: sterling $3.42¼, francs 13.82, lire 20.22 and marks .0195.

Small gains were the rule at the opening, the market benefiting by some over-Sunday buying orders from the interior where the selling impulse seems to have subsided. Wooleens took part in the initial movement, being lower as a class. But there was no stress to the selling and prices eased off at once. A feeble rally followed the slight reaction and the market trend was vague.

Mexican Petroleum was strongest oil, but many of this group showed slight response to news from Mexico confirming reports that the Obregon regime is secure. Steels and equipment were the strongest groups, however. At the end of an hour the majority of active issues were off and the market could be called irregular.

SENTIMENT IS BETTER.

Sentiment in trading circles is better than it was a week ago. Many operators believe the bear campaign is over for a time and that the market will be dull and comparatively steady for a while. The money situation is no better, although the reserve ratio of the federal reserve system showed a trifling improvement last week. It increased from 42.4 per cent to 42.7 per cent. This ratio is met by New York clearing house banks on Saturday was unfavorable, showing a decrease of $12,000,000 in surplus reserve. Boston's federal reserve bank showing was not as good as a week before, its ratio being 48.8 against 53 per cent. New York bettered its position from 39.3 to 41.4 per cent.

Although more favorably regarded than for months, rails were not in demand this morning. The urgent deficiency bill which has just become law provides them with $350,000,000 and it is reported from Washington that Congress will at once to aid them in buying the freight cars required to handle the country's traffic. Half a billion dollars is needed, railroad managers say.

Alaska Can Supply Paper

A prominent paper manufacturer is of the opinion that Alaska can help greatly in reducing the paper shortage. He says that country has an immense amount of raw material for paper pulp and a climate as good as that of the Maine lumber region. He says: "Huge paper mills could be established near the mouths of rivers which flow to the coast, so that river steamers could come up for the pulp and trans-ship it at the coast to seagoing vessels.

Copper Market Still Quiet

The copper market is still quiet and with producers holding firmly to their quotation of 19 1-4 cents a pound consumers are showing little desire to add to stock up. But the surplus is being reduced, foreign buying is to be financed and when transportation becomes normal domestic consumption will greatly increase. For the first four months of 1920 consumption is reported to exceed production by 200,000 pounds.

Sugar Receipts in Boston

Raw sugar receipts in Boston last week are estimated to have totalled about 70,000,000 pounds, making the end of April, 1920, meltings at three Atlantic ports are estimated to be in approximately 1,650,000 tons of raw, or about 250,000 tons more than during the corresponding period last year.

War Loss by France

France has sustained one of its largest war losses through the depreciation of foreign securities. Its holdings of that kind approximate $8,000,000,000 at par value but their current market value is estimated at not more than $6,000,000,000.

Telegraph Business Growing

Although long distance telephoning is increasing telegraph companies are doing more business each year. The Western Union has more than 25,000 offices and employs more than 56,000 persons, including about 14,000 operators. Its payroll approximates $1,000,000 a week.

PRICES MIXED IN BOSTON

Local Market Dull and Narrow During the Morning; Curb Without Feature

Strong at the opening the Boston market soon became irregular and maintained this status during the morning. Trading was quiet and narrow. Greenfield Tap and Die sold at its highest since listed on this exchange, but figured in but few transactions. New England rails were strong. Gray & Davis was an active auto accessory, and at its forenoon highest was up a point.

Coppers were very dull and, excepting Ahmeek, were firm. Lake Copper was given packing house shares than last week. They were irregular. Among issues to advance were New Cornelia, Shannon and Edison. Fractional gains were made by Boston & Maine, Isle Royale, North Butte, Ventura, Simms Magneto, Swift & Co., and Walworth.

Ahmeek was off 1¼ and small recessions were shown by United Shoe, National Leather, Libby, Waldorf and Bigheart.

CURB MARKET IRREGULAR.

The Curb market began with the week unchanged as to the character of trading it being quiet and confined to a few issues. In the opening the price movement was as indicated above as usual. Mutual Trust was the early feature, opening a gains and advancing further. It was active also. Ring advanced 1 point to start included Canada Mexico, Ranier, Mutual Trust, Midway and American Oil. Weak ones were Verde Mines, Calumet & Montana, Boston & Montana, Black Hawk and Arizona Tip Top.

At the end of an hour Mutual Trust was up 3 at 1 2-16, Canada Mexico ¼ at 11, and Ranier 1-16 at 1 13-16, while Texana was off 4 points at 8 cents, and Boston & Montana 2 cents at 77 cents.

RAILS STILL IN NEED OF GOVERNMENT AID

Enactment of the railroad bill did not render all the government aid that the common carriers require and one of the latest pleas from that quarter is for a loan of half a billion dollars in order that they may buy rolling stock and other equipment. But banking interests oppose such credit and Senator Cummins is of the same view. He suggests that instead of loaning roads more money that the duration of the revolving fund for $300,000,000 already authorized be extended from five to fifteen years.

It is said that the amendment to the Cummins railroad law to be offered will provide for an extending of revolving fund from $300,000,000 to $600,000,000.

SILVER METAL PRICE STEADILY SAGGING

The price of silver metal has sagged steadily this year, it selling in New York on Saturday at 120¼ cents an ounce and on Friday at $1.02¼. This is a decline of more than 18 cents an ounce since November last. It sold in that month at $1.37½ an ounce. If the market drops much further the United States Government may come into the market as a buyer, as the law of 1918 authorizes the Treasury Department to pay $1 an ounce for the metal.

The decline in the price of silver is attributed to the melting of coins by Europeans and to hoarding in order to obtain the profit represented by the high price of bullion.

EAST BOSTON FAMILY DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

A passer-by saw flames shooting from the second floor of the wooden dwelling at No. 142 Bremen street, East Boston, today, and warned Raffaele Cotro in time to allow him to hurry his three children to the street. The property was damaged to the amount of $2500.

Canada's Lost Cars

Canadian railroads are badly in need of cars "lost" on American rails. Out of 225,000 Canadian cars in use American roads have absorbed 62,000. While there are many American cars in Canada, the net loss to the Dominion is estimated as approximating 23,000 and are largely needed in that country. At a conference between Canadian and American railway representatives it was decided upon by the latter to return cars at the rate of 200 a day.

Petroleum Product Exports

During last year exports of petroleum products to Europe by the United States included 10,000,000 barrels of kerosene, 6,500,000 barrels of gas and fuel oil, 4,000,000 barrels of lubricating oil and 3,500,000 barrels of gasoline, its exports of this kind this year are expected to total 25 per cent. more.

Alma Tell Has Her Troubles Aplenty

ALMA TELL.

By FRED J. McISAAC,
Dramatic Editor.

Little Alma Tell has a very bad time in "Susan Lenox," the play in which she is appearing at the Arlington Theatre. She is cruelly deceived by his young man next door, she is forcibly married to a drunken brute, she is compelled to flee all over the Middle West, like Eliza in "Uncle Tom's" cabin, she almost starves in Cincinnati, she gets skopen to coarsely by buyers when she works as a model in a department store, and she has an uncle, aunt and cousin who are mean to her.

In addition to this she has a sore foot.

NOT A PROPERTY FOOT.

Alma Tell is a very pretty girl but she is too tall. That's how she got into trouble.

I have always worn high heels, but I felt I was too tall for Susan Lenox, so I began wearing very low shoes to make myself look shorter and I changed the way I wear my hair to give the effect of a small girl as much as I could. I suppose that's why my feet began to bother.

"Why did you do it?"

Miss Tell opened her very large eyes very wide.

SMALL GIRL FAVORED.

"Don't you know that a little girl can win more sympathy than a big one? To make the audience suffer with Susan, she must be sweet, helpless, pathetic and small and cuddly. A big girl, no matter how helpless she may feel, can't attract sympathy. She may say she is big enough to look out for herself. I have to create the illusion of pitifulness."

"You are not very tall, after all. Alongside of Jobyna Howland you would look like an infant."

"Perhaps it's only an obsession of mine. How do you like Susan Lenox?"

"It's quite a thriller, isn't it?"

"I love the character, and I do hope the play will be a success."

"How do you manage that dog, to change the subject violently?"

TROUBLE WITH DOG.

Miss Tell giggled. "I don't manage him very well. The opening night he erased him in the window by offering him some meat. Then I chained him to the leg that I had cut out. We thought that would be fine, but the second night he remembered the chaining episode of the opening and he wouldn't come in the window at all. I had to throw some meat out the window and go out without that part of the scene. He is a very nice dog, but as an actor he leaves much to be desired."

In the play the dog is a ferocious beast who is loose in the yard of the house where Susan is locked up. She lures him into the room, fastens him while he eats, and escapes.

Alma Tell is still in her early twenties. Her success in farce and comedy were already winning her fame when somebody discovered she could do emotional and character roles. Then she appeared in "Eyes of Youth" and now "Susan Lenox."

"And the worst of it is I like comedy parts," said Miss Tell. "I do hope I won't have to play wronged women all my life."

'I'LL SAY SHE DOES' BEGINS LEGION DRIVE IN HUB

The nation-wide membership campaign of the American Legion for the entire week of May 17-22 inclusive, will be inaugurated for the department of Massachusetts by a gigantic benefit of eight performances at the Shubert Theatre beginning next Monday night. The attraction selected for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of "the big push" is the musical comedy entitled "I'll Say She Does," which will start its Boston season at the Shubert the coming week.

Distinguished personages who have given assurance of their presence on the opening night, and for whom boxes have been reserved, are Governor Coolidge, Mayor Peters, Major General Jadwin, former commander of the 26th (Yankee) Division and now commanding general of the Northeastern Department, U. S. Army; Admiral Herbert O. Tonight will be Boston Chamber of Commerce night at the Pops Concert at Symphony Hall, and Conductor Agide Jacchia has arranged a special program for the benefit of chamber members and their friends. It will be the first time that the chamber has ever arranged a function affording an opportunity for ladies to attend their families, and the innovation has already proved to be a highly popular one. Nearly all the tickets for the floor and balcony have already been distributed.

The occasion has been arranged by the chamber's committee on meetings and assemblies, and will be held on the final feature of the most successful social season ever enjoyed by chamber members.

Why Mary Won't Be "At Home" Tonight

JANET VELIE

Tonight will be get-together at the Tremont for the Marys of the Hub, when hundreds of fair Bostonians bearing this grand old name will be there to receive George M. Cohan's comedians in "Mary," with Janet Velie in her charming conception of the title role. There has been much conjecture as to whether the beautiful names given our daughters is the most beloved, and in glancing through the telephone book with its 2,500 feminine subscribers listed as Mary, Manager Low declines to the belief that this name must be given the crown. So he at once arranged to have the Marys of Boston advised as to the premiere here tonight of the new musical play featuring their name at the Tremont Theatre.

Measures That Would Cure Most of the Troubles and Tendencies Which Distress and Alarm Us Today

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

What Have You Gentlemen to Say About Outrages Upon Justice in America?

We wish that you would read the following telegram and note the names of the signers:

With the profound conviction that further wars and acts of war should be avoided and believing that wholesale arrests without arraignment or trial disturb the peace and tranquility of a people, are destructive of human rights, and are at variance with that principle of liberty which is embodied in the United States Constitution in the provision that no person shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law," the undersigned members of Congress of the United States of America protest against further imprisonment without arraignment or trial of persons resident in Ireland arrested for acts of a political nature, and we ask in the spirit of American freedom and love of justice, out of our friendliness to the peoples of England and Ireland, and in the name of international peace, that, hereafter, if arrests based upon acts of a political nature are made in Ireland, by color or any form of authority, the right of trial shall without unreasonable delay be accorded to the accused.

Of the eighty-eight members of the House of Representatives who signed this appeal to the British Government, sixty-two are Democrats.

They are, therefore, supporters of the present Administration.

They, therefore, consent to and are practically parties to the conduct of the Administration's Department of Justice under A. Mitchell Palmer.

And the Administration's Department of Justice, under the orders and control of A. Mitchell Palmer, daily "deprives persons of liberty and property without due process of law."

The Department of Justice, under the orders of A. Mitchell Palmer and with the knowledge of Woodrow Wilson and with the consent of every single one of these sixty-one Democratic signatories, daily makes arrests based upon "acts of a political nature" and daily refuses "to accord to the accused the right of trial without unreasonable delay."

Moreover, this same Department of Justice, acting through its secret police, has seized persons here in Boston and elsewhere without any warrant, has subjected persons so seized to secret imprisonment and to physical abuse, and has then thrown the beaten and terrified victims into the streets, without even the pretense of trial or arraignment or legal hearing of any kind whatsoever.

Moreover, this same Department of Justice, through its secret police, has employed agents to incite violent and inflammatory assembly and speech, and has then raided and arrested and maltreated persons so induced to assemble and to speak.

The unconstitutional and tyrannical acts of the British police in Ireland have been bad enough, in all conscience, but they have not surpassed in lawlessness or in number the unconstitutional and tyrannical acts of the secret police and agents provocateurs employed by the Department of Justice right here in America—and for which the sixty-two Democratic members of the House of Representatives who signed this protest against similar conduct in Ireland are responsible as long as they uphold an Administration which so misconducts the Department of Justice.

We ask you gentlemen of the House who signed this protest against official lawlessness in Ireland what you have to say about this worse official lawlessness in America?

And we are amazed that you could have had the face to protest to Lloyd George against the tyranny and lawlessness of his English secret police, while you have had no word of protest to Woodrow Wilson against the tyranny and lawlessness of his Administration secret police directed by A. Mitchell Palmer.

When did usurpation and tyranny and secret arrests and police brutality become black in Ireland and white in America?

Now, you have had your say about these infamous things in Ireland for which you are in no way responsible. What have you to say about these infamous things in our country for which you are responsible as Democrats and as Congressmen?

Stand up like men, and answer!

Backfiring Economy

By S. E. KISER

PINKNEYVILLE'S economizing; everybody in the town
With a fervor that's surprising has gone in for cutting down.
Anson Smith, the harnessmaker, is opposed to papered walls;
Henry Jones, the undertaker, undertakes in overalls;
Sheriff Barker's busy leading those who promise to shun meat,
And Judge Patterson is pleading that we waste more than we eat.

NEARLY every woman's making plans to wear a gingham gown
And the fashion of home-baking has already hit the town;
All the girls are broken-hearted; ice cream sodas got to go,
And a movement has been started to boycott the movie show;
Last year's hats are being dusted; Mike Magee, who runs the dray,
Says the town'll soon be busted, if the folks mean what they say.

PLINY FISHER and Cal Thrasher had a nasty row last night;
Pliny is our haberdasher, and lit into Cal on sight.
It appears that Cal was trying to get all the boys to swear
That hereafter they'd quit buying shirts and ties and underwear;
While they had their little tussle, Black, the druggist, came along,
And assaulted Deacon Russell, claiming he had done him wrong.

ESSEX FIGG, the barber's, raving; men he always shaved before
Now are doing their own shaving; every merchant's getting sore;
Each economist's complaining that he's hit between the eyes,
Losing more than he is gaining, since we all economize;
Everybody's busy yelling that he'll move away for spite,
And at present there's no telling—maybe Mike Magee is right.

By K. C. B.

Dear K. C. B.—Some days ago you told of a dishwashing incident and related how one Leonard Gallagher washed dishes and you dried them at the home of one Jim Peede, this all occuring on a Sunday night. I am informed by Mr. Rae Henkle, managing editor of the Christian Herald, with whom I am associated in my daily labors, that, as a matter of fact, at the time and place aforementioned he dried nearly all of the dishes that Gallagher washed, while you stood around planing medals on yourself for dishes you had washed and dried in the past.

This is merely for your information. Yours truly,

WILLIAM C. McNULTY, Art Editor Christian Herald.

MY DEAR Bill.
IF THE managing editor.
OF THE Christian Herald.
IS PERFECTLY willing.
THAT THE public should know.
THAT ON a Sunday night.
HE DRIED a lot of dishes.
IN THE home.
OF A theatrical manager.
AND A minister's son.
FAR BE it from me.
TO TRY to hide it.
AND HERE and now.
I'M GOING to admit.
THAT RAE Henkle.
DID DRY more dishes.
THAN I dried.
AND FOR the reason.
THAT HE kept on drying them.
WITH A wet dish towel.
WHILE I went in search.
OF DRY dish towels.
AND LISTEN, Bill.
I WANT to ask you.
IF YOU'LL tell Rae.
THAT THE only reason.
I LEFT him out.
WAS BECAUSE I feared.
THAT IF any subscribers.
TO THE Christian Herald.
SHOULD HAPPEN to read.
THIS COLUMN of mine.
THEY MIGHT get sore.
BECAUSE THEY probably think.
AS I used to think.
THAT THE managing editor.
OF A Christian paper.
WEARS LONG white whiskers.
AND INTONES his speech.
AND WEARS a frock coat.
AND WRITES his copy.
WITH AN old-fashioned pen.
AND IF they discovered.
HE WAS an ordinary fellow.
AND WIPED a lot of dishes.
ON A Sunday night.
IN THE home of a friend.
WHO WAS a minister's son.
THEY MIGHT write letters.
AND STOP their papers.
AND THAT'S the reason.
WHEN I wrote about it.

I THANK you.

ARMY BEST MEANS OF TRAINING YOUTH

By Col. Samuel G. Shartle

Chief of Staff, Northeastern Department.

(This is part of an address delivered recently before the Men's Club at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands.)

LET us aim at a universal training for citizenship, using the army as a means. The officers of the army can be depended upon to teach patriotism. Some dependable institution for this high purpose is needed. The colleges reach but a small percentage of our youth, and it is to be regretted that, under the guise of liberal thinking some colleges have fostered radical ideas dangerous to our government.

The army is at hand for this purpose. It has ever been loyal to the authorities the people have set over it. In all our history, never has the army of the United States, whatever its size, whether 25,000 or 4,000,000, given to the people of this country an anxious moment with respect to its loyalty. That overworked superstition of the politician, used by him as a bugaboo to affect people with children's minds, viz., "a standing army is a menace to liberty," a tradition from our English ancestors, has received no tangible confirmation in our history.

Loyalty Instilled

Not only loyalty to country but loyalty to the leader is instilled in every soldier. This is not mere subservience, but a devotion to duty that impels the sincere effort to accomplish the recognized leader's will. Then there is loyalty to the principles of honor and truth, expressed in the time-honored phrase, "conduct becoming an officer and a gentleman."

The patriotism of your soldiers, their love of country, has been demonstrated on hundreds of battlefields by the sacrifices of their lives—and more than this no one can give. The endurance of hardships in many campaigns, in foreign wars and on the frontiers, in an honorable history of 145 years has shown a willingness to serve deserving of recognition.

I, therefore, place first among the ideals of the army loyalty, patriotism and service, guiding principles of the highest order. And, as essential to the attainment of the best service, the practice of Aristotles' four virtues becomes an ideal; these are: Wisdom, the fundamental recognition of the right and knowledge of things as they are, not as we wish them to be—no dreams, no utopias; prudence, to guide the judgment in the concrete relationship of men and things; temperance, which makes the correct use of means to an end—no waste of effort or material; courage, that leads to doing whatever is necessary to accomplish a worthy end—it may be to conserve life, or to die, or to take chances.

Form a Goal

These are the abstract ideals, the guiding principles and working virtues of the soldier. That they are always attained is not claimed, but that they form a goal and become the old soldier's religion may be asserted without contradiction. There are shortcomings, of course. As Dr. Hyde has remarked, "The only place where no errors are made, whether in baseball or in life, is on the grandstand."

As the highest concrete ideal of the army, I should place first the training for citizenship, which includes training for war as well as for peace. The army is worthy the trust and capable of executing it. It is worth while to note that several thoughtful officers have recently given emphasis to this ideal independently. But the most distinguished, eloquent and persistent advocate of using the army for the training of youth for citizenship is General Edwards.

Dangerous for France
Pick Dandelions
Big Thief or Colossal Ass
Bump, Near, Two Miles Deep

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1920.

Germany protests against the acts of negro troops sent "to keep order" after the war's end.

Those most nearly free from race prejudice will realize that since France had at least a million white men under arms, it would have been wiser to send white men to do the work.

In one man's house in Frankfort seven negro soldiers were forcibly quartered with the man's wife and two daughters. The colored troops of France are men fresh from Africa, not used to civilized ways. There was certainly lack of international tact, whatever your ideas on race equality may be, in forcing a man to take seven black men, close to savagery, into a house with his grown daughters.

The Germans have cause for complaint, and the French people even greater cause for complaint, the danger to them is greater. Germany is twice the size of France, and growing, France, in population, is standing still. France can take Germany's money, but cannot take her people or keep the population down.

French statesmen that send black troops into Germany, when war is over, are piling up against their country a national hatred that may prove expensive. Bismarck did that in 1870 and the Germans are paying now.

Nations, like individuals, apparently, do not learn from the experience of a preceding generation.

Eat dandelions, raw or cooked, to keep thin. Good advice, better if you add, "pick the dandelions that you eat." Picking dandelions means bending over and using the muscles, front and rear, around which fat accumulates most easily.

Your skeleton, your muscles, even the formation of your brain are almost identically the same as in your little half brother, the chimpanzee. Watch him exercising his back and front muscles all day long. You will not wonder that men and women get fat, never bending over except to fasten or unfasten shoes morning and evening.

Universal Service says that Morse, convict in a Federal prison shortly before the war, went successfully through the following financial transactions:

He bought from the government for $175,000 a ship built with public money. This ship he arranged to sell to a foreign country. She was sunk. The Shipping Board having sold the ship for $175,000, then awarded Mr. Morse $400,000 damages for the loss of his ship.

That is one little item in the carnival of stealing and asinine ignorant wasting of the people's money that went on while you were told to be a patriot and buy bonds to save your country. You know now how that bond money was spent.

There were honest men, of course, among those that allowed the public money to be stolen and wasted, thousands of millions, in shipping and "aircraft" that did not fly.

The question of the hour is would you rather vote for the leading one of the intelligent thieves, from Wall Street and the neighborhood, that robbed the country throughout the war, or one of the record-breaking, colossally asinine fools in office that allowed the stealing to be done?

Seventy cents and one dollar an hour to harvest wheat. Such are prices quoted in Missouri, Kansas, etc.

With the government limit lifted on the price of wheat, how high will that price climb? The South says that cotton ought to bring a dollar a pound—because cotton cloth is so high.

Farmers might say that wheat should bring five dollars a bushel, to start it, with bread selling at twelve cents a loaf in some places. Then cotton cloth would take a jump, bread would double, wages would rise of necessity, and so on.

Out West, in a quiet walk, you come to the edge of the Grand Canyon and look down a mile or so. You usually step back when you come to that spot.

This country has reached the place where it can look down a couple of miles to one of the biggest bumps that any country ever had, but no one seems to think it worth while to turn back.

Some Americans have taken twenty-five millions of stock (in marks) in the General Electric Company of Berlin. They will make money. Henry Ford says Germany will be the first country after England to get completely on its feet. One of the biggest bankers and industrial leaders in America, who has sent his mon throughout Germany and her factories, says Germany will be first on her feet, ahead of England. The reason is that Germans will be first to have forced upon them the knowledge they have got to work.
